CIO ORGANIZING CRUSADE BEGUN

Reelected Officers Open Drive To Unionize White Collar Workers, Clerks.

By The Associated Press

PORTLAND, Ore, Nov. 27—The CIO executive board pushes the starting button today for what Philip Murray calls "the mightiest organizing crusade in American history.

Riding into his ninth year as CIO president, Murray demanded a campaign of this size yesterday as the CIO convention adjourned

The first step was up to the executive board.

The convention gave to the board the power to take whatever action may be "appropriate and necessary" to organize workers in fields where CIO unions have failed to do the job.

Many CIO leaders expected the board today to hand this enormous power over to President Murray, secretary - treasurer James Carey, and the nine CIO vice presidents. All those officers were reelected yesterday without a peep of opposition.

Murray has already named three of the organizing fields, and the unions that have "failed" in them, as follows

1—White collar workers (United Office & Professional Workers Union).

2—Governmental employes (United Public Workers)

3—Retail clerks (Retail & Wholesale Union)

Murray during the convention also pounded leaders of three other small unions with scornful criticism They are the Food & Tobacco Workers the Mine, Mill & Smelter Workers and the American Communications Association

Leaders of all six unions with the exception of the Retail & Wholesale Union, were in the left-wing opposition to Murray's policies in the convention debates Murray told them forcefully that he will not protect "cliques" of men whose interests are promoted by the Communist party

SAYS FEAR OF WAR DISPELLED BY 'LIFT

Former Upper Resident Reports on Berlin Scene.

By The United Press

COLUMBUS, Nov 27—Americans living in Berlin do not fear a war with Russia as long as the U S Air Force's airlift operates, Mrs John McDermott, wife of the United Press Berlin bureau manager said today

A former resident of Findlay and Upper Sandusky, Mrs. McDermott spent the weekend here Christmas shopping She arrived here in time for Thanksgiving and plans to rejoin her husband in Berlin by Christmas

Although there is a feeling of tenseness throughout Berlin we do not fear a war with the Russians as long as the airlift operates," the pretty blonde said She said American planes arriving in the American sector of the German capital every three minutes in good weather are bucking the Russian blockade

Appealing for more donations of food and clothing to American wives in Berlin for distribution to German war orphans, Mrs. McDermott said the Germans are "deeply appreciative" of gifts from the United States

She said wives of American newspapermen working in Berlin clothe and feed 135 German orphans in the American sector of Berlin

Mrs McDermott is visiting her brother, Fred J. Milligan, state director of commerce.

19. Pressure on the German Border.

OUR GROUND forces, while not yet at peak strength, continued constantly to increase On August 1 our divisional strength on the Continent was thirty-five, with four American and two British divisions in the United Kingdom. By October 1 our aggregate strength on the Continent, including the Sixth Army Group, which had advanced through the south of France, was fifty-four divisions, with six still staging through the United Kingdom.

In view of all conditions there was much to be said for an early assumption of the defensive in order to conserve all our strength for building up the logistic system and to avoid the suffering of a winter campaign. I declined to adopt such a course, and all principal commanders agreed with me that it was to our advantage to push the fighting.

• • •

WE WERE CERTAIN that by continuing an unremitting offensive we would, in spite of hardship and privation, gain additional advantages over the enemy Specifically we were convinced that this policy would result in shortening the war and therefore in the saving of thousands of Allied lives

Consequently the fall period was to become a memorable one because of a series of bitterly contested battles, usually conducted under the most trying conditions of weather and terrain Walcheren Island, Aachen, the Hurtgen Forest, the Roar dams, the Saar Basin, and the Vosges mountains were all to give their names during the fall months of 1944 to battles that, in the sum of their results, greatly hastened the end of the war in Europe

Capture of the approaches to Antwerp was a difficult operation The Scheldt Estuary was heavily mined, and the German forces on Walcheren Island and South Beveland Island completely dominated the water routes leading to the city It was unfortunate that we had not been successful in seizing the area during our great northeastward reach in the early days of September.

Final German resistance on Walcheren Island was eliminated by November 9, by which time some 10,000 enemy troops had been captured, including a division commander The cost was high For the entire series of operations in the area our own casualties, almost entirely Canadian and British, numbered 27 633 This compared to less than 25 000 in the capture of Sicily, where we defeated a garrison of 350,000

• • •

THE FIRST SHIPS to begin unloading in Antwerp arrived there November 26 The Germans had begun launching V-1 and V-2 weapons against the city in mid-October While the bombs were frequently erratic as they had been in London, the V-2s caused considerable damage in the district Numbers of civilians and soldiers were killed and communications and supply work were often interrupted, although usually only for brief periods

The enemy also employed large numbers of E-boats (a small speedy type of surface torpedo boat) and tiny submarine to interfere with our use of Antwerp These weapons we countered by energetic naval and air action In spite of all difficulties, Antwerp quickly became the northern bulwark of our entire logistical system.

Immediately south of the British area Bradley on October 22 brought into line the U S Ninth Army under General Simpson On November 16, Bradley renewed his offensive toward the Rhine in the northern part of his sector The attack was carried out by the Ninth and First Armies and was preceded by a heavy bombing of the enemy and by artillery bombardment.

These attacks initially employed fourteen divisions and the number was soon increased to seventeen. Nevertheless, progress was slow and the fighting intense On the right flank of this attack the First Army got involved in the Hurtgen Forest, the scene of one of the most bitterly contested battles of the entire campaign

• • •

MEANWHILE, south of the Ardennes Forest, the Third Army launched an attack on November 8 Its offensive was aimed generally at the Saar region and made excellent initial progress North of Metz, bridgeheads were established across the Moselle and shortly after the middle of November the leading troops crossed the German frontier Metz was surrounded and cut off The city surrendered November 22

Still farther south there was much fighting in Devers Sixth Army Group During September it advanced northward through the Rhone Valley and came in abreast of the Third Army line, facing eastward in the difficult Vosges Mountain area Devers attacked that formidable barrier on November 14, in an attempt to penetrate into the plains of Alsace

The French First Army led the attack on Devers' front and breached the Belfort Gap within a week Its leading troops quickly reached the Rhine This turned the flank of the German position in the Vosges and forced a general withdrawal in front of the U S Seventh Army under General Patch

The fighting throughout the front, from Switzerland to the mouth of the Rhine, descended during the late fall months to the dirtiest kind of infantry slugging Advances were slow and laborious Gains were ordinarily measured in terms of yards rather

U. S. Challenges Russ To Give Up Force, Terrorism

By The Associated Press

PARIS, Nov. 27—The United States challenged the Russian bloc today to abandon the use of "coercion force and terrorism" in spreading Communism

John Foster Dulles acting U S chief delegate, addressed a lecture directly to the Soviet bloc in a United Nations assembly debate on the Greek-Balkans issue He told them the United States does not hate countries which have Communist governments, but

"What we hate is the use of force, coercion and terrorism to make others accept your views Abandon those methods and remove the only serious obstacle to world security"

Dulles spoke after Soviet delegate Andrei Y Vishinsky, in an arm - waving, table - pounding speech, derided the UN Balkans investigation committee as "amateur Sherlock Holmeses" and repeated his characterization of the UNSCOB (special UN Balkan committee) report as "garbage" The committee accused Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria of aiding the Communist guerrillas in Greece's civil war

As Dulles spoke in the assembly he looked toward the Soviet delegation Violent language used by Vishinsky and other eastern European delegates he said "is confirmation that Greece's northern neighbors are helping the Communist attempt to overthrow the Greek government"

"When men in high official positions assail their colleagues before the United Nations and use violent language, there are lesser followers to use violent deeds" Dulles said

The Soviet deputy foreign minister made the "garbage" charge previously in efforts to discredit the evidence gathered by the commission to the effect that Yugoslavia Bulgaria and Albania were aiding the Greek guerrillas

Waving his arms and at times pounding the table, the Russian shouted the report was based on "distortion falsification and bad faith"

Sarcastically he said the investigators "dabbled in detective work"

SWIFT ACTION TO FILL ERP GAP PROMISED

$1,250,000,000 More in Aid Funds Needed To Carry Program to July.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON Nov 27- Rep Cannon (D-Mo) today promised swift action to fill a $1 250 000 000 gap in the European aid program

The veteran lawmaker is due to become chairman of the house appropriations committee Jan 3 That will put him in a position to give a powerful shove to an expected administration request for additional Marshall plan funds

President Truman foreshadowed such a request yesterday in authorizing economic cooperation administrator Paul G Hoffman to use the entire $4 000,000 000 European recovery fund by next April 2 instead of making it last until July 1.

The 80th congress gave Mr Truman that option in finally approving the foreign aid appropriation bill which house Republicans tried to slash last spring spearheaded by Rep Taber (R-NY) retiring appropriations committee chairman.

To Push Message

Cannon, however, told reporters he will push the new measure as quickly as possible because "things seem to be moving pretty rapidly in Europe"

That echoed Hoffman's view

"Now is the time," he said, "to hit and hit hard for recovery"

The White House disclosed that the ECA boss had asked for the speedup order on Oct 29 In his letter to the President Hoffman said only such action would meet "the pressing minimum needs" of the 16 Marshall plan countries, the allied zones of Germany and Trieste

The $275,000,000 China aid program which ECA administers was not included in the presidential spending order With their additional $125,000,000 military aid fund nearly exhausted, the Chinese now are pressing for a much larger sum to help turn back their Communist foes

Chinese aid is but one of the many foreign aid problems the new Democratic congress will have to deal with The Greek-Turkish aid programs are expected to require more money And there is the question of financial assistance to the western European defense union with which this country may be linked in a mutual aid pact

Must Pass on 1949 Amount

Besides the $1 250 000 000 which Hoffman says is needed to cover the April 2-July 1 gap, congress also must pass on the amount ECA gets in the fiscal year starting July 1 Hoffman has said spending will be at a slower rate then but has made no estimate of the sum he will recommend

American grain traders, meantime, breathed easier as the ECA revealed plans to honor some $50 000 000 in contracts between the dealers and foreign nations

Since Tuesday when Mr Truman barred them from returning to overseas markets, the traders had wondered what would happen to millions of dollars in export orders negotiated after Hoffman announced in September that all ECA grain would be bought through private channels after Dec 1

Mr Truman reversed that decision and ruled that the federal commodity credit corporation will continue to handle the Marshall plan grain exports

23 Columbus Pickets Jailed

Arrests Made After Worker's Auto Is Overturned at Zinc Oxide Plant.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS Nov 27- Twenty-three strike pickets were jailed today after a returning worker's automobile was overturned at the American Zinc Oxide company plant

Those jailed included Robert Holowwa of St Louis and Ralph Lowke of Cleveland, international representatives of the CIO Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers union

The union has been conducting a strike at the plant since Aug 13, and the common pleas court recently issued an order limiting the number of pickets at the main gate to five

A company spokesman said 15 pickets accosted Carl Buckenberger a machinist, when he arrived at the gate An argument developed and his car was overturned

Two special deputy sheriffs called the sheriff's office for assistance Regular deputies rushed to the scene and took 23 pickets to jail

The pickets were charged with malicious injury to property Justice of the Peace Hubert Brown set arraignment for later today

The company reopened last Monday under protection of the court order

A contract between the company, which has approximately 143 production employes, and the union expired last June 30 The company declined to renew the contract it said, because national officers of the union had failed to sign non-Communist affidavits

The union said it had sought an increase in pay and that the company resorted to the Communist affidavit issue at the last minute

Attorneys for the union have contended that the county court had no jurisdiction in the dispute, that the matter was a federal case

POLICE PAY SUIT IS IN SECOND DAY

Decision Not Likely To Be Given Until Next Week.

Decision in the policemen's back pay suit against the city may not be given until the first of the week it was indicated today as trial of the case went into the second day today in common pleas court

The police had not yet rested their case by noon but were expected to complete testimony this afternoon City attorneys said the defense would be brief using substantially the same testimony as was put into the record in the firemen's case

Although counsel for both parties opined that the bulk of the testimony would be in by this afternoon, a verdict by Trial Judge Leland Rutherford was not expected yet today

Court was recessed virtually the entire day Friday while attorneys for the policemen, Carter M Patton W P Moloney and Moloney and Kelly went over estimated salary figures for the back pay claimed with counsel for the city, prior to submission of the figures

Bulk of the morning session today was given over to submission of the police payroll and appropriation figures taken from city records for the years in question City Auditor Elmer Shaw was asked to verify the figures from the records

Also called to the stand this morning was Police Captain E C Mackan, who testified as to the waiver agreement police as did the firemen signed when they went on reduced pay As in the previous case, W P Moloney took over direct examination of witnesses

Many Solicit CROP Pledges

Farm Produce for Overseas Needy Sought by 67,000 Volunteer Workers.

By The Associated Press

DAYTON, O., Nov. 27—Some 67,000 volunteer workers in 34 states were taking pledges for farm produce today to be shipped to the needy under the Christian Rural Overseas Program.

This was announced here by Ervin Schulz, national CROP field director, at the close of the first week of solicitation He said the solicitation period would be extended to Dec 8

Schulz predicted 100,000 volunteers eventually would assist in the program Under the plan relief trains will move simultaneously across America's rural states in the largest voluntary effort of its kind ever undertaken, he said

"The program will symbolize the true Christmas spirit in a very tangible way," said John D Metzler, national chairman of the program

Special dedication programs will be held shipside in 10 different east coast and gulf ports Between 2,000 and 2 500 carloads of grain, beans, meat dairy products, cotton, rice, and other products are expected to roll in the crop food caravan

Schulz said today that in eight states, 75 per cent or more of the counties are conducting CROP campaigns Iowa and Illinois have 91 per cent of the counties at work, he announced

The Christian Rural Overseas Program is sponsoring all the trains The organization, in turn is supported by Catholic Rural Life (representing the war relief services of the National Catholic Welfare conference) Church World Service (representing 21 Protestant denominations), and Lutheran World Relief (representing various Lutheran synods) In every state, all major agricultural organizations are cooperating

CROP contributions are distributed through church channels overseas, solely on the basis of need, with no regard to race religious, or political affiliation, Metzler said.

2ND FIRE VICTIM DIES

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Nov 27—Joanne Balough, 15-year-old victim of a fire in her home last Monday which killed her sister Marilyn, 11, died today. The two girls were found clasped in each others arms in a closet-kitchen of the room they shared with their mother, Mrs Lucille Balough, 38. Harry Rich, 42, who admitted setting the fire because the girls' mother had rejected his proposal of marriage, is awaiting grand jury action on a first degree murder charge

Longshoremen's Unions Vote Today on Terms To End Strike

WOULD SEND 92,000 BACK TO MARITIME JOBS

Ballot OK of Settlement Would Also Free 500 Ships Now Tied Up.

By The Associated Press

Early resumption of normal shipping operations along the strike-bound East and West coasts hinged today on a vote among dockworkers on terms for ending the costly work stoppages.

The rank and file of the Longshoremens' unions at ports along the two coasts started balloting on ratification of the agreement reached between union officials and employers The outcome of the voting was expected to be disclosed tomorrow

Acceptance of the wage and other terms would return 92,000 workers to martime jobs. Thousands of railroad and other workers made idle by the paralyzing walkouts also would be called back to work

More than 500 ships are tied up at ports, those on the west coast since after the start of a strike on Sept 2 by CIO longshoremen and four other unions. The 65,000 AFL longshoremen at east coast ports struck on Nov. 10. Wages are the chief issue in the disputes.

Cost in High Figures

The cost of the strikes runs into the millions of dollars. The Pacific American Shipowners estimated the tieup on the Pacific coast, second longest in history, has cost about $944,000,000 in trade.

The opposition among the rank and file accepting the terms developed yesterday at a meeting in Brooklyn. Those attending the meeting claimed to represent 12,000 members in 13 Brooklyn locals of the AFL International Longshoremen's association.

The Brooklyn dockworkers decided to reject the proposed contract in today's vote. A Boston delegate was quoted as saying longshoremen in Boston and Baltimore also are not satisfied with the new terms In Philadelphia, a general membership meeting of dock workers voted to accept the terms A union official said 8,300 Philadelphia longshoremen will report for work Monday.

Called Communist Move

In New York, Joseph P Ryan, ILA president, termed the Brooklyn action "an attempt by the Communist party to becloud the issues" He said many at the meeting were not bonafide union members

The AFL union officers have tentatively agreed on a pay hike of 13 cents an hour, retroactive to Aug 21, boosting the eastern daytime base scale to $1.88 an hour The agreement of the west coast provides for a basic wage boost of 15 cents an hour to $1 82

On the west coast, Harry L. Lundeberg, head of the non-striking AFL sailors' union of the Pacific said his union members would not return to work until shipowners "honor our agreements" The Waterfront Employers' association has ratified a contract with the CIO longshoremen, the key union among the five involved in the strike.

Engineers in Agreement

Agreement has been reached between the employers and the CIO marine engineers and early settlement is expected with the firemen, the marine cooks and stewards and the radio operators.

Demands by Lundeberg included a guarantee that the CIO longshoremen will not use a new contract to infringe sailors' cargo-working rights on coastwise and Alaska ships, and wage hikes in line with any gains to be awarded CIO marine cooks and unaffiliated marine firemen.

GALION SERGEANT WEDS GERMAN GIRL

Army Reports Marriage of E. C. Columbus in Wiesbaden.

AVC CONFIDENT OF EFFECTING RED PURGE

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Nov. 27 — Successful in their first showdown fight, administration forces were confident of pushing through a Communist purge resolution today at the American Veterans Committee convention.

The resolution would "clean out and keep out members of the Communist party" from the organization.

The administration group last night won convention approval of action by the organization's national planning committee in suspending 13 New York City chapters and denying them delegate seats.

Suspension of the chapters resulted when Richard Crohn was seated as a delegate in a Metropolitan area AVC council meeting last September. Crohn previously had been suspended by the planning committee for lending AVC's name to partisan political activity by appearing at a Wallace-for-President rally.

The convention also approved the planning committee's charter revocation of the Ernie Pyle chapter of New York and the expulsion of Morris Pottish, New York attorney who presided at the Metropolitan area council meeting. Crohn was a member of the Ernie Pyle chapter.

With the three victories in hand, administration leaders said they confident of having the Communist resolution passed.

The resolution declares the "totalitarian principles and destructive practice of the American Communist party are inconsistent with the Democratic principles and constructive program of AVC."

National AVC chairman Chat Paterson earlier said that "anyone who continues to regard the AVC as a Communist organization after this convention will be readily recognizable as the type who also regarded Franklin D Roosevelt and Wendell Willkie as Communists."

Gov. Elect G. Mennen Williams of Michigan also was to address today's session.

TO SHUT OFF GAS IN NON-PERMIT HOMES

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., Nov. 27—The East Ohio Gas Co today said it would plug up gas furnace lines in about 100 more homes here where the heating units have been installed without permits.

Fuel to furnaces in three homes were halted yesterday in what the company said was compliance with a ban by the Ohio public utilities commission on further gas conversions. The commission's order went into effect last summer.

Fuel supplies for cooking and small heaters were not involved in the gas company's action.

William H. Ayres, a local furnace dealer, threatened to contest the gas stoppage with court action and said he would push for repeal of the commission's ban.

City law director Roy E. Browne reported he would "study the situation further" before determining whether the city would enter the controversy.

The gas company move did not affect Joseph C. Rhlin, who also installed a furnace without a permit. He obtained a temporary restraining order in common pleas court yesterday barring the company from cutting off his fuel.

Common Pleas Judge Stephen C. Calopy will consider next Wednesday his request for a permanent injunction.

Jack Delaney, Former Boxing Champ, Dies

By The Associated Press

KATONAH, N. Y., Nov 27—Jack Delaney, former light heavyweight boxing champion of the world, died at 10:45 a. m. (EST) today at his home in a rural area near here.

The cause of Delaney's death was not announced but he had been ill for several months. He underwent an operation at Mt. Sinai hospital in New York last spring.

Delaney, 48, won the light heavy title by outpointing Paul Berlenbach at New York, July 17, 1926. He moved into the heavyweight ranks in 1927, declaring himself no longer able to make the 175-pound limit. In 1928 he retired.

Hunt U.S. Soldiers Who Killed 2 Japs

By The Associated Press

SAPPORO, HOKKAIDO, JAPAN, Nov 27—All exits from this snow covered northernmost Japanese island were guarded today to block any escape attempt by two American soldiers who killed two Japanese and wounded five others Thanksgiving night.

Army military police and criminal investigators pressed the search for the pair. Four of their victims, who were beaten after the first two were shot to death, were in serious condition.

The only descriptions given of the pair were that one was tall and one was short.

DELIVERY DATE SET ON NEW FIRE TRUCK

$27,000 Machine Due To Arrive Here Dec. 15.

Delivery of Marion's 85-foot aerial ladder fire truck is expected Dec 15, E. O Uncapher, city safety service director told newsmen today.

Recent communications from the American La France-Foamite Corp of Elmira, N. Y., who were awarded the contract for building the new truck indicate delivery may be expected on Dec. 15 Mr Uncapher said.

The original delivery date on which the truck was scheduled to arrive Nov 20, but because the first council appropriation for the truck was $1,000 too small, it was necessary to re-advertise for bids for the aerial ladder truck. The new contract, as let by the city board of control, called for the Dec 15 delivery date Mr Uncapher concluded. Price of the truck is $27,000.

The new aerial ladder will replace the present aerial "No 1" now stationed at Central Fire Station. Aerial "No 1" was purchased by the city from the Seagrave Fire Engine Co of Columbus in 1916 and has been in use from then to date.

2ND OF 4 YOUNG FUGITIVES CAUGHT

By The Associated Press

ZANESVILLE, O., Nov. 27 — The second of four fugitives from the [illegible] Michigan technical [illegible] was nabbed by police here today.

Police booked De Wayne Frederick Render, 21, on a charge of auto theft after he was captured at a bridge here. Two companions escaped.

Previously William De Vier, 19, was captured on Thanksgiving day after the quartet wrecked a stolen car near Alvada, Seneca county, the state highway patrol reported. DeVier was held by Fostoria police on an auto theft charge after treatment at a Fostoria hospital for injuries suffered in the auto accident.

Still at large, the state highway patrol said, are Donald Cowling, 18, and Alfred Martin, 22.

Patrolman Howard Balz spotted Render and his two companions crossing a bridge here and forced their car to a curb. The patrolman fired a shot at Render, who surrendered, but the others escaped.

The state highway patrol reported the four youths fled from Michigan into Ohio, stealing cars as they proceeded southward. The patrol gave this account of their activities at Fostoria.

After stealing several cars in Michigan, they broke into a garage at Fostoria and stole a new DeSoto. They they headed south, but had a wreck on route 23 near Alvada. Fostoria police and state highway patrolmen had set out in pursuit.

They found the wrecked car. Police picked up De Vier, who was wandering along the road apparently dazed from injuries suffered when the car left the road. His three companions had fled after stealing a 1940 Chevrolet in the neighborhood.

The trail of the fugitives was picked up again today with the capture of Render in Zanesville.

NANKING, N[illegible] 27 — The battle for the [illegible] to the Chinese capital [illegible] spread [illegible] south of [illegible]

Ten [illegible] Red [illegible] reportedly were [illegible] at Changpa [illegible] miles north of Nanking the newspaper said.

F[illegible] immediate vicinity [illegible] almost ended with the main forces of both the Reds and the Nationalists moving southward in a series of [illegible]

A government [illegible] general said the Communists have lost 230,000 men in the 19 day battle. Government [illegible] were reported at 95,000 men. These figures customarily are [illegible] by the Chinese.

From [illegible] reports reaching Nanking it appeared that the [illegible] abandoned their [illegible] system of [illegible] warfare and were slugging it out wherever they came upon the Reds.

This same phase of the war seemed to be shaping in North China where Gen. Fu Tso-Yi's headquarters in Peiping said he was preparing to meet 280,000 Reds in Hopei province with Tientsin and Peiping as the prizes.

TO SPEED NEWS OF JAPS' EXECUTION

By The Associated Press

TOKYO, Nov 27—General MacArthur's headquarters, still refusing to let newsmen witness the execution of Hideki Tojo and six other war criminals, relaxed his position ever so slightly today.

Col M P Echols, MacArthur's publicity chief, agreed, on the importuning of correspondents, to release "as soon as possible" a bulletin after the hangings are secretly carried out at Sugamo prison.

Details will follow, Echols said, as soon afterwards as they can be "prepared in the form of a typed release."

The previous plan called for release of the news at 10 a m. (8 p m EST the previous date) regardless to when the men were hanged.

Previously, MacArthur had refused to permit even one newsman to witness the hangings, although the Army in the execution of top German Nazis permitted a "pool" man representing the major news services to attend these executions.

MacArthur himself declined to discuss the coverage of the important post-war news event with correspondents.

Aviation Course Open To National Guardsmen

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Nov. 27—The first aviation course open to air Guardsmen will begin next March 1, Adjt. Gen. Chester W. Goble announced today.

Officers and enlisted men of the Ohio National Guard may now qualify for aviation cadet training, Goble said. The course may be completed in 52 weeks.

Goble said graduates will be required to serve only one year in the Air Force before returning to their original National Guard unit.

Air Guardsmen, Goble said, must be between the ages of 20 and 26½, have one-half of the credits needed for a degree at an accredited college or be able to pass an equivalent educational test.

Mansfield Man Held in Shooting

By International News Service

MANSFIELD, Nov 27 — A 27-year-old Mansfield father was in Mansfield hospital today with two bullet wounds in the right chest and one in his right arm following a quarrel in which his father-in-law shot him. Physicians said Henry Selton Byrd was in "only fair" condition.

Police quoted the father-in-law, Orland Tone Champion, as saying he shot Byrd when the younger man refused to leave his room. He said they started to argue when he told Byrd's son to keep quiet and Byrd interferred. He said in the heat of the argument he shot Byrd three times with a 22-caliber revolver. Mrs. Champion called the police, who are holding her husband for investigation.

High Winds Fan California Fire

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 27—High winds which caused considerable minor damage in southern California today fanned a 300-acre timber and brush fire on Mt Baldy, 40 miles east of here in the Sierra Madre mountains.

The flames were within less than a mile of Snowcrest, resort community. With 40 men on the fireline in the precipitous region, the U S forest service issued a call for 200 more.

Winds as strong as 60 miles an hour whipped southern California yesterday. The weather bureau forecast fresh winds today.

Heavy gusts blew down power lines and trees, shredded Christmas decorations and whipped up pounding breakers along the beaches. Several persons suffered minor injuries when struck by broken glass and flying debris.

ATOM POWER LESS THAN HURRICANE

By The United Press

CHICAGO—The power of a hurricane is many times that of an atomic bomb, University of Chicago meteorologists say. They estimate the whirling wind strikes with the impact of 2,000,000 tons a square mile.

"It is thousands of times as powerful as an atomic bomb," the scientists said.

The hurricane goes at speeds of from 150 to 200 miles an hour. It is born in the dead calm of the 'doldrums,' a tideless area of sea in the Atlantic between the Cape Verde Islands and the West Indies.

Most of the time that sleepy sea is peaceful, hot and humid. But in the autumn things begin to happen."

300 Miles in Diameter

The hot air rises slowly from the sea and the cool air of the trade winds moves in to take its place. As the hot air climbs skyward, it picks up speed and begins turning and twisting. Eventually it becomes a full-fledged hurricane, about 300 miles in diameter.

The huge bulk of twisting, racing wind then is shoved slowly over the sea by the trade winds. Although it moves only 12 miles an hour, it is turning at tremendous speeds.

In the center of the vortex there is an almost perfect calm. The centrifugal force set up by the circling wind keeps the air from entering into the center.

At the same time, the moisture of the sea is sucked up through the chimney and tossed out onto the rim of the funnel.

The hurricane only lives for about 10 days but in that time it can do more damage than almost any other form in nature.

VA SETS STANDARDS FOR GI-LOAN HOMES

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27—The Veterans Administration today set minimum building standards for GI-loan houses.

They are designed to protect home-buying World II veterans from shoddy construction [illegible] being created by unscrupulous contractors or salesmen, the agency said. They go into effect Dec. 15.

The rules specify the minimum quality of materials, construction techniques, workmanship, equipment installation and structural details necessary for veterans loan guarantees.

The GI standards parallel the minimum construction requirements of the federal housing administration. The veterans agency emphasized they are not intended to standardize house plans or discourage builders from including extra features.

Earlier this year the VA set up an appraisal service to provide builders a pre-construction price estimate of "reasonable value," based upon the building plans. Periodic inspections by VA representatives, as they appraised houses were being built, assured the veteran-buyer that the property was meeting specifications.

VA chief Carl R. Gray Jr. said the pre-construction appraisals hereafter will be given only when the plans and specifications meet the new minimum building standards.

GIRL SLIGHTLY HURT IN AUTO COLLISION

2 Minor Accidents Reported by Police.

Two minor traffic accidents, one in which a Marion girl was slightly injured, and [illegible] traffic arrests were reported today by city police.

Cora Mae Wilson, [illegible], of 493 North [illegible] street suffered a cut on the forehead and a bruised knee while riding in a car driven by Ray Eugene Wilson, 16, same address, when their car collided at 5:55 p. m. yesterday with one driven by Roy Cornett, 25, of Delaware. Police investigators reported both cars considerably damaged in the accident which occurred at the corner of North State and East Fairground streets. The Wilson girl was given emergency treatment by a local physician and released.

A car driven by Dr. Arthur J. Willey of 435 South Main street and Lowell L. Carpenter of 253 North Prospect street collided at North Prospect and Mill streets at 12:13 p. m. yesterday with minor damage resulting, police report.

Lewis M. Wickersham of near Marion was arrested at 1:14 a. m. today on Mt. Vernon avenue on a charge of speeding. He was released under a $25 bond pending his appearance in municipal court today.

Howard Clayton Johns, 25, of Martel was arrested at 3:10 a. m. today on East Center street on a charge of speeding. He was released under $25 bond until court convenes today.

3 BOYS HELD IN "SPITE KILLING"

By The Associated Press

GAYLORD, Mich., Nov. 27—Three boys were held today in the "spite killing" of an elderly woodcutter who wouldn't help them cover up their school truancy.

Authorities said the three youngsters, the oldest 13, admitted the fatal shooting of 66-year-old Arthur King in the woods near here Nov. 18.

Named in a formal state police warrant were Richard Damer, 13; his brother, Harry, 10, and Robert Black, 12, all of Vanderbilt, Mich.

Police planned to take them into probate (juvenile) court today.

King was shot, it was said, because he refused to chop down a tree so that it would fall across a power line.

According to prosecutor Paul Kenny, the boys imagined this would cause consternation in town and "their absence from school wouldn't be noticed."

They had "skipped school" that day, Kenny said they told him and encountered King while they roamed in the woods with a 22 rifle purchased with money which they stole from a home.

The boys, Kenny said, gave a complete story of the incident relating that after King had chased them off they returned and shot him.

Searchers found King's body three days later. He was shot in the back and the bullet had emerged through his neck.

Oldsmobile Increases Prices for '49 Models

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, Nov. 27—Oldsmobile of General Motors joined Buick and Cadillac today in announcing price increases for 1949.

At the same time Oldsmobile said production of its "66" and "68" series, least expensive of its 1948 cars, would be discontinued for 1949.

Price increases on the largest Olds model, the futuramic series "98," will range from $360 to $370 over 1948. In the "76" series, lowest priced for 1949, the increases will range from $45 to $60.

Oldsmobile said its futuramic series "98" would include as standard equipment the new "rocket" engine, hydromatic drive, directional signals and windshield wipers.

The last three were offered optionally in 1948. Olds did not state the net difference in cost for 1949 as a result of making them standard equipment.

FLOOD THREAT IN ALABAMA FORECAST

By The Associated Press

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 27—A "definite flood threat" was forecast for Alabama lowlands as rivers continued to rise today and heavy rains moved northward.

Rainfall at Montgomery set an all time record yesterday. The U. S. Weather Bureau reported 5.91 inches for the 24-hour period ending last night and the rains continued to fall.

Meterologist E. D. Emrich predicted a "danger stage" of 48 feet for the Alabama river in Wilcox county by tomorrow. Flood warnings were out at Millers Ferry.

Officials said the Tallapoosa river at Milstead might reach 30 feet or more today, flooding the lowlands.

"We want everybody to be on the alert for whatever might happen," the weather bureau warned.

Yesterday's rain and high winds demolished five buildings and damaged nine others in remote sections of Louisiana. Streets in Hattiesburg, Miss., were flooded when rains sent Gordon Creek out of its banks.

Baton Rouge, La., streets were inundated when 4.23 inches of rain fell during the morning.

FOUR ACCIDENTS REPORTED BY PATROL

Four Arrests Also Made by State Officers.

Four traffic accidents and four arrests for traffic violations were reported today by the highway patrol.

Three Marion persons were uninjured when a car driven by Richard Berry of 622 University avenue overturned on the [illegible] pavement on route 203 one and a half miles north of Prospect at 12:40 p. m. yesterday. Passengers in the car were Miss Betty J. Berry of 494 Davids street and Carol Ann Berry, 3, of the same address.

The patrol said Mr. Berry lost control of the vehicle when it skidded on a curve. The car, owned by William Berry Jr. of 494 Davids street, a brother, sustained considerably body damage.

Glen W. Dennis of Howell, Mich., suffered minor head injuries when his car and an Ohio Power Company truck of Tiffin driven by Lewis A. Habbitzer of Upper Sandusky collided a mile north of Upper Sandusky at 8:15 p. m. last night on route 23. The front of the car was heavily damaged but damage to the truck was minor.

At 10:30 p. m. last night a truck driven by Herbert Arthur of Erie, Mich., and a car driven by Russell B. Kirk of Ashtabula collided on route 42 east of Cardington. Both vehicles were damaged slightly. The truck was owned by Trucking Inc., of Detroit.

Cars driven by Ernie C. McGlothlin of Morral and Jay Stewart of Columbus sideswiped on route 23 at 8:35 a. m. today a mile north of Marion. Stewart was issued a citation to appear in municipal court Dec. 4 on a charge of interfering with traffic when passing. The right front fender and side of the McGlothlin car was damaged and the left front fender of the Stewart car.

Jack Chevalier of 462 Decatur street was arrested at 11:55 a. m. yesterday for passing without the assured clear distance on route 42. He was fined $10 and costs by Mt. Gilead mayor's court.

At 5:10 p. m. yesterday Charles C. Bowman was stopped by the patrol on a charge of failing to obey a stop sign at the intersection of route 98 and a county road. He was issued a citation to appear in municipal court today.

George C. Cornett of Cleveland was fined $5 and costs by Cardington mayor's court for driving with no driver's license. He was arrested on route 42 at 8:20 p. m. last night.

IN MISSILE TEST — Placed in operation at the Naval Proving Ground, Dahlgren, Va., this 24-inch test gun will shoot bombs and warheads of guided missiles weighing up to 2,800 pounds at supersonic velocities. The largest known gun in the world, it is basically the 45-foot barrel of a standard 16-inch gun and was originally mounted on the battleship South Dakota which received a direct hit from a 500 pound Jap bomb and was badly damaged during the battle of Santa Cruz in October, 1942.

LIVESTOCK WORTH MILLIONS IN SHOW

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Nov. 27—An estimated $3,000,000 worth of cattle, horses, sheep and swine were assembled under a single roof today as the International Livestock Exposition opened for its 49th annual eight day run.

From 42 states and five Canadian provinces, exhibitors brought more than 12,500 head of livestock and almost 3,000 samples of nearly perfect grains to compete in this agricultural world's fair.

Exhibitors, both junior and senior, will have pocketed more than $100,000 in prize money, in addition to receipts from sale of their prize stock, before the exposition closes next Saturday. Stock sold at the show a year ago netted the owners a total of some $2,000,000.

Farm boys and girls dominated the opening day of the exposition, parading their beautifully primped animals before judges in the junior livestock feeding contest.

Former Notre Dame Star, Now Coach, To Be Football Banquet Speaker

Benny Sheridan on Program for Harding, St. Mary Dinner.

Benny Sheridan, former star halfback for Notre Dame and present freshman team coach for his alma mater, will be the guest speaker for the annual football banquet next Thursday honoring the Harding and St. Mary grid squads. Tickets for the program at Moira hall of St. Mary church will go on sale to the general public Monday at Markert and Lewis and Vance Sporting Goods.

BENNY SHERIDAN

The banquet is being sponsored by the Inter-Club council and the Harding and St. Mary booster clubs. T. E. Sommastine, ticket chairman, said only 200 tickets will be sold to the public and urged early purchase of tickets. More than 100 Marion high school football players and their coaches will attend.

Star in '38, '39

Benjamin Mason Sheridan was the most dangerous Irish ball carrier in 1938 and 1939. In his senior year he averaged more than six yards a carry as Notre Dame's Number One running threat and in his final game for the university he displayed his passing ability when he completed four aerials in as many attempts to help down Southern California. As a student he maintained an honor average during his four years at the university.

After his graduation Sheridan got the job of molding the first football team of South Bend's John Adams high school but before the squad ever played a game he joined the Army and was sent to officer training school. During 1941 he was head football coach and star halfback for the Fort Riley, Kan., cavalry replacement training center.

Sheridan returned to Notre Dame this fall and Coach Frank Leahy entrusted him with what many observers consider the finest Irish freshman squad in years. During all of his football career, Benny weighed only 165 pounds and stood five feet, eight inches.

Sheridan was born Feb. 4, 1917, in Chicago but two weeks later his family moved to Havana, Ill. It was in Havana that he first gained recognition as an athlete. At Havana Community high school he earned 12 letters and was appointed to the all-state football team in his senior year. In 1942 he was married to the former Miss Dorothy Spaulding of South Bend, Ind., and the couple now lives just off the campus in sight of the Golden Dome of Notre Dame.

Hunt to Be Toastmaster

Toastmaster will be Paul Hunt. He will introduce Dewey Bohyer, Harding athletic director; Pete Howison, head football coach; his assistants Howard Thomas, George Keel, and Kenneth Somerlot; and Forest "Treeze" Sharrock, St. Mary coach. Also present will be junior high coaches John Luginbuhl of Central, George Whitehead of Edison, and Darl Gatchel of Vernon. Very Rev. William J. Spickerman V. F. will give the invocation and Dr. V. E. Busler will present the benediction. Team members of both the Harding and St. Mary 1948 football squads will be introduced.

The two booster clubs will pay for the meals of the football players and the Inter-Club council will bear the remaining expense of the banquet. The Kiwanis club and Rotary club are in charge of the program, the Lions and Exchange club are handling ticket sales, the Y. Men's club entertainment, and the Junior Chamber of Commerce decorations.

SEEK CAGE GAMES

A Cardington basketball team composed of recent high school graduates is looking for road games in this area. Any team representative interested may contact Merle Smith of 400 Center street, Cardington.

Edison Cagers Win First Game, 62-38

Edison came up with its first victory of the season last night by smearing a Lucas cage squad, 62-38. The Edison men now have a one won, one lost record. Lucas took the reserve contest, 22-21.

By The Associated Press

BALTIMORE, Nov. 27 — Baltimore paid its last tribute today to one of the great sluggers of baseball, Hack Wilson.

Hundreds jammed into the Eutaw street funeral parlor to hear the last rites for the diamond star who pulled down $30,000 a season while he was at the top—but died penniless here Tuesday.

Hack will be buried at Martinsburg, a small town in the eastern West Virginia panhandle where he began his professional baseball career in the Class D Blue Ridge league.

MAY BAN GRIDDER WHO HIT OFFICIAL

By The Associated Press

DAYTON, O., Nov. 27—Don C. Mills, Dayton university football player, may be banned from all school athletics for striking an official at the Dayton-Chattanooga football game Thanksgiving day, Dayton's athletic director said last night.

The director, Harry C. Baujan, said he would recommend "Mills be dropped from all athletic participation" at a meeting Monday with the Rev. Charles L. Collins, S. M., chairman of the faculty athletic committee, and Coach Joe Gavin. The meeting was called to decide what disciplinary action should be taken against the player.

"The university cannot condone his action," Baujan said, "and we must do something to show our future opponents and officials that this sort of thing cannot go unpunished."

Mills, a junior, was escorted from the game by his own teammates after head lineman Frank Jones was struck twice in the face. Jones had to leave the game after the incident.

The punching came after Dayton was ruled offside in an extra point try. Chattanooga won the game 21-6.

BAD-BOY GRAZIANO SUSPENDED BY NBA

By The United Press

PATERSON, N. J., Nov. 27—The hectic, checkered boxing career of bad-boy Rocky Graziano today appeared to be at an end.

The former middleweight champion from Brooklyn was suspended indefinitely by the National Boxing association yesterday for his withdrawal from a fight with Fred Apostoli, scheduled for Oakland, Calif., next Wednesday night.

The suspension action first was taken by the California state athletic commission, which notified Abe J. Greene, commissioner of the NBA. Greene announced at his home here that it would be automatic for the 40-odd member states of the association to uphold the California suspension.

The NBA includes all boxing states except New York and Massachusetts. The New York commission, meanwhile, was expected to fall in line with the rest of the states since it has a working agreement with the New York commission and also is known to be seeking admission to the NBA.

Graziano flew back to New York from the west coast last week, where he already started training for the Apostoli fight. His only defense for the withdrawal was his mental "mix-up."

FAMOUS GRID COACH, GILMOUR DOBIE, ILL

By The Associated Press

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 27—Gilmour Dobie, famous football coach, whose record for turning out undefeated teams never has been equalled, is critically ill in the Institute of Living here.

Known to generations of fans as "Gloomy Gil" because of his doleful, seldom-fulfilled predictions of disaster for his teams, the 68-year-old Dobie has been a patient at the Institute, a private hospital for nervous disorders for the past three months.

The Institute declined to comment on Dobie's condition. But at Putnam, where he had made his home for the past four or five years, his personal physician, Dr. David Bates, said that the famed gridiron mentor was gravely ill.

Dobie's last coaching assignment was at Boston college from which he retired in 1938. He almost lost his life in an automobile accident which followed a "victory dinner" for his first B. C. team in 1936. A car in which he was riding crashed into a bridge, and Dobie suffered a brain concussion, a fractured jaw and deep lacerations.

He turned out 11 undefeated teams in a row for North Dakota Agricultural college and the University of Washington before he came east in 1917 to coach at the Naval academy. In his initial year at Annapolis the Midshipmen won their first victory over West Point in five years. Dobie switched to Cornell in 1920 and remained there 16 years, turning out several undefeated teams before he went to Boston college.

MAN OR MOOSE? Mervin Davidson, an aluminum mill mechanic, posed for this picture to illustrate a nightmare he had after returning empty-handed from a moose-hunting expedition. The stuffed moose-head in the driver's seat was bagged by another hunter.

Only One Letterman Back With St. Mary Cage Squad

Coach Treeze Sharrock isn't happy.

On his St. Mary squad which is practicing for its first basketball game of the season Dec. 4 at Columbus St. Mary is only one letterman from last year's Irish championship team. The ravages of graduation took seven of that squad and the only man left is Corky Cusick, senior guard.

Treeze also has another problem that could wrinkle his forehead if he'd let it—a lack of height. The Irish are working on a smooth passing attack to counteract the yardstick disadvantage. Much of each practice session is spent in ball handling.

Battling for forward are Bill Merchant, Jimmy Cusick, and Tommy Rizzo. Either Jerry Wensinger or Bill Moloney will probably be starting center and guards are Bob Armbruster, the squad's only other senior beside Corky, Ed Moloney, Nick Maniaci, and Corky. Coach Sharrock plans to have a team of 20 and carry 15 on the road.

He will select his reserves from the following players now out: Jack Wensinger, Billy Wagner, Ted Richards, Jimmy Dunn, Santo Rizzo, Gene Patton, Joe Lupica, David Kreigbaum, Jim Marfia, Bert Casetta, Chuck Andrews, Bob Cusick, and Bob Schroeter.

"The team still has a lot of football in its system yet but we'll get rid of that," said Coach Sharrock. He has three practice games lined up before the opening of the season. The first Irish Mid-State league game is with Marysville Dec. 16 at Edison junior high school gym where the St. Mary cagers will play all their home games.

Last year the Irish racked up a record of 20 victories and five losses, one of the best in the school's history. St. Mary lost out in the Central district finals to Bremen's Oilers.

Vet League Plays Three Games Monday

Three basketball contests are on tap for the Marion County Veterans league program Monday night at the Marion Armory. GI Post will take on VFW at 7, Company C will meet Bird-McGinnis at 8, and Waldo will play Navy Club.

John Luginbuhl, Central junior high coach, has been selected to aid George Keel in officiating the contests for the rest of the season. Tickets cost 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for students up to high school age.

Miami To Decide On Two Bowl Bids

By The Associated Press

OXFORD, O., Nov. 27—Players on the Miami university football team will decide Monday whether or not to accept one of two invitations to bowl games. They have been invited to play at the Cigar bowl, Tampa, Fla., and the Basin bowl at Odessa, Texas, New Year's day.

University authorities said no decision would be reached until the players return from their Thanksgiving holiday. They said they understood Hardin-Simmons would be the opponent at the Basin bowl, which has its inaugural game Jan. 1, but did not know who might be the opponent at Tampa.

Miami, winning seven games, lost to Dayton university, 7-0, and tied with the University of Virginia this season.

Cage Coaches, Stars To Play "Red Heads," All-Girl Team

MARGIE ARENDS
Model in Off-Season

Three basketball coaches and five other top cagers in the county will combine Dec. 8 to meet the All-American Red Heads, an all-girl team, in a basketball game at New Bloomington.

Coaches Norman Weston of Morral, Kenny Somerlot of Harding and Glen Kessler of Prospect and former high school stars Gene Freet of Caledonia, Norman Withrow of New Bloomington, Kenneth Jones of LaRue, Junior Kirsler of New Blomington and Russell Wickersham of Claridon will compose the team that will face the Red Heads, a team that won 125 games last season while losing but 77.

The girls team, from Cassville, Mo., boasts a six-foot, four-inch center, Gene Love, and a couple of gals billed as world's champion free thrower and the world's greatest woman goal shot—Hazel Walker and "Peaches" Hatcher, respectively.

Other girls on the team are Betty Arends, a rookie with the team, her sister, Margie, a professional model in the off-season, Stubby Winter, the smallest player at five-two, and Juanita Coleman, the pivot man—or woman, rather.

The team, featured in several magazines since their organization in 1938 by Ole Olson, coach of the Terrible Swedes, annually tours the country meeting male teams and beating them with surprising regularity. Last year they played 202 games in 192 days.

DERRICOTTE TO PLAY IN EAST-WEST GAME

By The Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27 — The first Negro to be selected for the East-West Shrine game is Gene Derricotte of Michigan, backfield star.

He was among the 20 collegiates named by the East selection committee yesterday as having accepted invitations to play next Jan. 1. Names of the East's four remaining players will be announced when they complete their current season.

West players are being considered by Babe Hollingbery and Percy Locey of the West selection committee.

Proceeds of the annual Kezar stadium sell-out go to the Shriners hospital for crippled children.

Other East players named included Dale Armstrong, Dartmouth and Ed McNeil, Michigan, ends, Ralph Kohl, Michigan and John Finley, Penn State, tackles; Warren Beson, Minnesota, center; Dolph Tokarczyk, Penn, Guard; Frank Burns, Rutgers; Joe Sullivan, Dartmouth and Everett Faunce, Minnesota, backs.

This is Bert LaBrucherie's 20th consecutive year as a football coach. During that time he has coached at only two schools, both his alma maters. LaBrucherie mentored for 16 seasons at Los Angeles High school and is starting his fourth campaign at UCLA.

GALLORETTE SET TO RUN LAST RACE

By The Associated Press

BOWIE, Md., Nov. 27—[illegible] greatest money winning mare [illegible] $[illegible],000 Bryan and [illegible] which closes the current Bowie meet.

The six-year-old mare owned by Mrs. Marie [illegible] against a [illegible] field of 13 in her effort to add to her record earnings of $445,5[illegible].

These include the [illegible] stable entry of [illegible] and Chains. With [illegible] Clarence Picou in the saddle the former won last Saturday's Prince George autumn handicap. Here Chains has won his last three starts.

Also slated to go were Big Dial, second in the Prince George, and Pilaster, which ran third but was topweighted at 125 for today's mile and three-sixteenths affair.

Rounding out the probable starters were the Christiana Stables team of Secure Post and Alexis; Flash Burn, Ivan, Ace Admiral, Bright Sword, Butler and Oriole.

HAMILTON "IN" IF HE WANTS PITT JOB

By The United Press

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 27—Capt. Tom Hamilton, athletic director of the Naval academy today appeared to be "in" as the new head man at Pitt—if he wants the job.

The eight-member athletic committee at Pitt definitely has made Hamilton its top choice, it was reliably reported.

Pitt Chancellor Rufus Fitzgerald announced that "Captain Hamilton and others will be considered at a meeting in my office at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon."

The athletic committee and undergraduate deans will attend the meeting and their choice will be presented to the board of trustees for approval.

If Hamilton should decide to stay at Annapolis, insiders believe Lloyd Jordan, former Pitt grid star and now athletic director and head football coach at Amherst, would be the No. 2 choice.

Wes Fesler of Ohio State already has rejected the job. Others reportedly under consideration were Harvey Harman, head coach at Rutgers, and Jack (Spike) Harding, athletic director at Miami.

BROWNS, 49'ERS DUEL SUNDAY FOR CROWN

By The Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27 — The two juggernauts of the All-America professional football conference — the undefeated Cleveland Browns and the once-defeated San Francisco 49ers—meet here tomorrow in a clash to decide the Western division conference championship.

Kezar Stadium has been sold out for weeks and a capacity crowd of 60,000 is expected to sit in on the proceedings.

In their last outing at Cleveland two weeks ago, the Browns turned back the 49ers, 14-7, after the San Franciscans had won ten straight conference games. Since then the Browns have made it 12 straight by whipping the New York Yankees, 34-21, last Sunday and the Los Angeles Dons, 31-14, Thursday. Tomorrow's contest will be their third in eight days.

San Francisco turned in a 63-40 trouncing over the Brooklyn Dodgers last Sunday.

Star quarterback Otto Graham reportedly suffered a wrenched knee against the Dons but Coach Paul Browns isn't talking about his condition.

Odds here favor the 49ers despite the Browns' unblemished record.

This is probably due to three factors — Graham's possible injury, too many games in too short a space of time and the fact that the 49ers are playing on their home grounds.

On offense, the 49ers lead the league, followed by Buffalo and Cleveland. The San Franciscans have averaged 416.5 yards total offense per game. The Clevelanders lead in the league in defense, all of which adds up to what looks like a whale of a ball game.

College Football Bows Out With Attention on Army-Navy Battle

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 27—[illegible] College football [illegible] out [illegible] a bang today with a score of major games headed by the [illegible] Army-Navy duel in Philadelphia before 102,000 persons and President Truman.

This is the final big college football afternoon of the 1948 season although a handful of scattered engagements are on tap next Saturday.

While the Cadets and Middies engage in their annual brawl in the City of Brotherly Love for the honor of West Point and Annapolis, a lot of attention is going elsewhere.

This because several choice New Year's day bowl spots remain to be filled and the [illegible] who hope to grab off the rich prizes have a job to do first.

Georgia, for instance, is like a fly teetering on the rim of the Sugar Bowl. Georgia has to stave off an old bitter rival, Georgia Tech, at Athens, in order to stay in the running. Sugar Bowl officials say the choice of teams for the New Orleans affair is expected to be announced tonight.

North Carolina, which winds up its schedule against Virginia at Charlottesville, may be in line for a Sugar Bowl bid along with Oklahoma. The Sooners take on Oklahoma A. & M. at Stillwater.

Another tilt with the sugary flavor is Tulane versus Louisiana State at Baton Rouge.

Any one of these, along with Oregon—which has ended its regular schedule—Michigan State, and Clemson, are under consideration also for possible trips to the Miami Orange Bowl, or the Dallas Cotton Bowl.

Southern Methodist, which already has clinched a Cotton Bowl berth, winds up its season against pesky Texas Christian at Dallas.

Nothing has come from Cotton Bowl authorities, or S. M. U. concerning an opponent, but it looks like Oregon. Jim Aiken, Oregon head coach, left by plane for Dallas to see the Mustangs play T. C. U. Dan Garza, Oregon end and co-captain, said flatly the Webfoots had been invited and were waiting Pacific Coast conference sanction to play.

Oregon finished its season last week with only one loss, that to Michigan, which has been voted the No. 1 team in The Associated Press nation-wide poll in recent weeks. Oregon lost out on the Rose Bowl to California, which meets Northwestern in the Pasadena classic Jan. 1.

PREVIEWS OF COMING ATTRACTIONS AT THE THEATERS

Top Rate Comedy At Palace Theater

"Miss Tatlock's Millions" rated [illegible] comedy hit of the year [illegible] featuring an outstanding cast opens Sunday at the Palace theater and will continue through Tuesday.

[illegible] in the Palace [illegible] are John Lund, Wanda Hendrix, Barry Fitzgerald and Monty Woolley. They are supported by Ilka Chase, Robert Stack, Dorothy Stickney and Elizabeth Patterson.

The story of "Miss Tatlock's Millions" centers around the mad scramble for a fortune that has been inadvertently willed to a [illegible] grandson. The grandson [illegible] with his caretaker played by Barry Fitzgerald [illegible] Hawaii has unknown to his family disappeared. Fitzgerald a rascal, has been accepting his salary checks for two years with no uneasiness at all.

When Fitzgerald is faced with the necessity of returning to California with his charge he takes a stunt man by the name of Burke played by John Lund, into impersonating the grandson for a few days. However, Burke complicates matters by falling in love with his "sister" played by Wanda Hendrix, and by getting into a [illegible] of jams with the assorted relatives.

Showing Wednesday and Thursday will be "The Velvet Touch" starring Rosalind Russell with Leo Genn, Claire Trevor and Sydney Greenstreet.

The film presents Rosalind Russell as a popular Broadway star who [illegible] kills her producer when he threatens to ruin her reputation completely. Unsuspected of her part in the tragedy, the star feels that the man deserved to die and does not reveal herself as his slayer. When another actress is accused of the killing, her struggle with her conscience builds up the tension to an exciting climax.

A double feature, "Old Los Angeles" and "Sealed Verdict" will be shown Friday and Saturday. The former stars William Elliott, John Carroll, Catherine McLeod and Joseph Schildkraut, and heading the cast in the latter are Ray Milland and Florence Marly.

With early Los Angeles as a background, the former film tells of a young Missouri frontier marshal who journeys to California to join his brother in gold prospecting, only to find, upon his arrival there, that his brother has been murdered by one of the outlaw ring which controls the city. He then sets out, with a vengeance, to track down the assassin.

The story in the latter, with a setting in post-war Germany during the famous war crimes trials, revolves around the prosecution of a Nazi arch-criminal by a brilliant American lawyer.

ROBERT STACK AND WANDA HENDRIX romance, as John Lund disapproves in the above scene from the new comedy production, "Miss Tatlock's Millions" which will be shown Sunday through Tuesday at the Palace theater. Also co-starred in the film are Barry Fitzgerald and Monty Woolley.

Anna May Wong Stars at State

"Lady from Chungking" starring Anna May Wong, and "Corregidor" with Otto Kruger and Elissa Landi will be shown Sunday and Monday at the State theater.

Billed as a double feature for Tuesday and Wednesday are "Keeper of the Bees" and "Road to Big House." The former stars Michael Duane and Gloria Henry, and heading the cast in the latter are John Shelton and Ann Doran.

George Raft, George Brent and Joan Blondell are the stars of the film "Christmas Eve" which will be the main attraction of a double feature showing Thursday through Saturday. Completing the billing will be "Lone Star Trail" with Johnny Mack Brown and Tex Ritter.

Two Monte Cristo Stories at Marion

Two Monte Cristo films "The Count of Monte Cristo" starring Robert Donat with Elissa Landi, and "The Son of Monte Cristo" starring Louis Hayward, Joan Bennett and George Sanders, will be shown Sunday through Tuesday at the Marion theater.

The former film star tells of a young French naval officer, who, after escaping from prison in France, having been sentenced on an unjust charge, goes to the island of Monte Cristo where he gains a large fortune and becomes the Count of Monte Cristo. He then goes to Paris, becomes the leading figure of the day, and plots ways to get even with his three enemies who are responsible for his imprisonment.

Billed for Wednesday and Thursday are "The Last Crooked Mile" and "Drums of Fu Manchu." The former picture stars Donald Barry and Ann Savage with Adele Mara.

A thrilling crime drama, "The Last Crooked Mile" tells of a fast-talking young private detective who plunges up to his neck in a murder mystery which the police officials have despaired of solving. With only one clue to work on, the detective follows a trail of murder which leads him into such locales as a sideshow, and an amusement park crime museum.

"Colt Comrades" starring William Boyd as Hopalong Cassidy, and "Big Bonanza" will be shown Friday and Saturday.

"Fighter Squadron" At Ohio Theater

"Fighter Squadron" a story of the Army Air Forces starring Edmond O'Brien, Robert Stack and John Rodney is now playing through Wednesday at the Ohio theater.

Photographed in technicolor, "Fighter Squadron" is the story of a devil-may-care fighter command in England during the late war, and of the lives and duties of the men of the Army Air Forces as they struggled for supremacy in the air over Europe in the months before D-day.

It tells the story of one squadron and its valiant group of men who attacked one by one as they kept pressing the fight against the enemy. Realistic action shots highlight the film.

Heading the outstanding supporting cast are Henry Hull, Tom D'Andrea, Sheppard Strudwick, James Holden and John McGuire.

Showing Thursday through Saturday will be a double feature, "Pittsburgh" and "Green Hell."

FRENCH ENGINEER VISITS HUBER CO.

Reports Machinery Made Here Used on Bombed Roads.

A visit yesterday and today at the Huber Manufacturing Co. was part of an extended tour of American manufacturers being made by Jacques Bouriot, civil engineer with Societe Technique d'Imporation de Materiel d'Entreprise in Paris, distributors of Huber equipment in France.

M. Bouriot said yesterday that reconstructing bombed-out roads and highways is going forward and that the Huber line of construction and maintenance machinery is being widely used, particularly the Huber Maintainer.

He came to this country by plane in October and expects to return to Paris in about two weeks. He went to Chicago from Marion this afternoon.

During the war M. Bouriot was a student in De L'Ecole Nationale Des Ponts et Chaussees in Paris. He completed his studies a year ago and became associated with the Paris concern which he is now representing in this country.

New York Stock Quotations

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 27—The stock market started out on an even keel today.

A substantial number of issues were unchanged. Elsewhere small gains and losses were well mixed.

Turnover was at the customary slow weekend rate, with the ticker tape frequently coming to a halt.

U. S. Steel opened ⅛ point lower, along with General Motors, Boeing and Sears Roebuck.

Allied Chemical gained ⅝ and higher prices were paid for Anaconda Copper, Sinclair Oil and Union Pacific.

AMBASSADOR QUITS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27—The Venezuelan ambassador to the United States has resigned. Since the government which appointed him was overthrown this week, Ambassador Gonzalo Carnevali said last night, the resignation of its representative in Washington was necessary "to avoid wrong interpretations on the dignity of his position here."

Although the Negro population of the United States has increased sharply through the years, the proportion of Negroes to white people has declined sharply since 1790.

Fire Routs 55 From Albuquerque Hotel

By The Associated Press

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov 26 — Two spectacular pre-dawn fires in New Mexico caused $200,000 damage and routed 55 hotel guests from their beds Thanksgiving morning.

One of the blazes was in the downtown district of Albuquerque. The fire spread from a pool hall rest room, threatening to engulf the third floor hotel and filling it with smoke. Damage was caused in the pool hall, Western Union office, a drug store, a sewing machine firm and business offices in the 61-year-old building.

At Socorro a building at the intersection of U. S. 85 and 60 burned, destroying a variety store and a barber shop and damaging the post office. Each of the fires caused damage estimated at $100,000.

Mansfield Firm Low Bidder on Hospital

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Nov 27 — The Mountaineer Contruction Co of Mansfield offered the low general bid on a 70-bed hospital building at Mansfield men's reformatory yesterday.

The bid of $354,233 topped the estimated cost of $234,213 by $120,020.

Total of the low bids for all phases of construction was $462,144, more than $131,000 over the estimated overall cost of $330,918.

On Getting Out of Bed

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

THE biggest need today is a pleasant way to get up in the morning.

In this respect England is the most civilized country on the globe. There the traveler is awakened by a rap on the door, and somebody brings a cup of hot tea in and sets it by his bed.

After ten or fifteen minutes of sipping this relaxing brew, a man is reconciled to the dismal prospect of rising and facing a rueful world.

Hal Boyle

I tried to adopt this pleasant practice in my own household. But after the first four days Frances yawned one morning and said:

"Well, rover boy, you've been pampered long enough. It's your turn to make the tea today."

That ended that. I'm so helpless in the kitchen I can't boil water without burning it.

The modern alarm clock, the poor man's substitute for the sunrise, in any form is the most intolerable gadget contrived by a machine-worshiping age. It is far worse than a hammer blow on the head. Once I bought a Swiss musical alarm clock, thinking this would ease the wear and tear on jangled nerves.

IT PLAYED the "Blue Danube." The first week or so it wasn't bad. After that it slowly began to instill a collective nausea, so that today if I hear a waltz at any hour, day or night, I have the sensation of a workhouse undergoing the dry heaves. Somehow Strauss and the cold gray dawn don't go together any better than lavender and old snuff.

Hundreds of ways have been devised to get up on the right side of the bed in the morning. But I don't know of any that work well.

I know of people who go to sleep with a pot of coffee on a hot plate by their bedside. I know others who leave their radios turned on or are called by telephone. They all still hate to get up.

The most ingenious contrivance I know of was rigged up by a screwball friend. He tied upside down on his bedstead a vacuum bottle full of hot coffee. Hanging from it was a tube with a clamp on the end.

When he woke up, my friend would reach up a drowsy hand, put the tube in his mouth, flip the clamp and lie there peacefully drinking the life-giving fluid. But now he's back on alarm clocks.

"One morning the stopper came out of the bottle," he explained grimly. "Did you ever get woke up by a hot coffee shower?"

AT A PARTY the other night I was complaining about the daily battle I had getting out of bed.

"My husband had the same trouble," said a pretty young matron, "but I found a way to get him up and to work on time."

"Yes?"

"Well, I had to get up first to change the baby," she said. "One morning I accidentally laid the diaper on the pillow beside my husband. He got up immediately.

"Then I started putting the diaper on the pillow deliberately. My husband never was late after that. That worked for a long time, but now I am having the same old trouble with him."

"What happened?"

"Our baby," said the lady, "is growing up."

Volunteer Firemen Make Safety Report at Upper

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY—City officials and councilmen were guests at the November meeting of the Upper Sandusky Volunteer Fire Department at the municipal building here. The business meeting was followed by reports of members who checked stores, public buildings and factories here as a part of the current fire prevention program.

The firemen checked the building for the locations of entrances and exits, electric switches, stairways and elevators, water outlets and fire extinguishers, and any possible fire hazards in the methods of storing inflamable materials, waste materials or other articles.

The location of strategic points in battling a possible blaze in any of the buildings checked was pointed out in the reports of the members who made the inspections.

BUCYRUS GRIDDERS HEAR WES FESLER

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Nov. 27 — Bucyrus High school's undefeated football team, 1948 Northern Ohio league champions, was feted last night when more than 400 fans turned out for a banquet, sponsored by the Redmen's Booster club at the high school.

Wesley Fesler, head football coach at Ohio State university, was the principal speaker. At the conclusion of his talk, he showed moving pictures of several key games on the Buckeyes' 1948 schedule. Motion pictures of the Bucyrus-Bellevue game also were shown.

Toastmaster for the affair was J. D. Sears, Bucyrus attorney and an alumnus of Bucyrus High school. Invocation was given by YMCA Secretary E. B. Hagaman.

Coach Al Pesek, who brought to the school this fall its first undisputed league football championship since 1925, presented varsity letter certificates to 20 players and reserve awards to six others. The actual letters will be presented to the squad at a high school assembly in the near future.

Rich Man Bowles Talks Language of Poor Man

(One of a series of 22 articles on new governors chosen in the November election.)

• • •

By The Associated Press

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 27 —Chester Bowles, Connecticut's Democratic governor-elect, is a rich man who talks the poor man's language.

He talked it so convincingly that he did in Connecticut what President Truman did in the nation. He won when the experts said he hadn't a chance.

Mostly the 47-year-old Bowles spoke about high prices. He knew about them from his war days as OPA administrator.

Picked Popular Themes

He hammered away at other issues which might be expected to appeal to the voter with a slim pocketbook — low cost housing, increased old age pensions, better pay for state employes, a 75-cent state minimum wage law, more benefits for workers who are injured or become jobless.

Now, says the retired advertising executive, he's determined to back up his campaign promises with action.

With characteristic directness, he already has named a group of experts to help him. They will report the results of their research to him before he takes office Jan. 2 as Connecticut's first Democratic governor in six years.

Bowles won the governorship by 2,200 votes in the face of a 15,000-vote Dewey victory in the state. He doesn't say so but he may have a personal reason for his determination to make good on his promises.

GOP Doubts Voiced

During the campaign Republicans questioned whether he would. One top GOP leader voiced his skepticism by labeling Bowles promises as the "huckster tactics of this Fifth Avenue big timer who dampens the decks of his yacht with tears for the plight of the poor working man."

The yacht is a 56-foot yawl which Bowles says he prizes above his comfortable home in Essex. He is skipper in fact as well as in name when he sails her with his wife and five children.

To a group of newsmen who inspected the yacht he remarked with an amused laugh:

"If you're looking for those tears, you won't find any."

Four Unhurt When Car Upsets Near Bucyrus

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Nov. 27—Mr. and Mrs. John A. Williams of Galion and Mr. and Mrs. George Baldwin of near Mt. Gilead escaped unhurt near here yesterday when their automobile careened off the road and turned over in a corn field while rounding a curve on the New Winchester road, about three miles south of here.

Sheriff Ralph Schreck said the automobile, driven by Mr. Williams, was damaged considerably but none of the occupants hurt. They were enroute to Bucyrus.

Farm Bureau Truck Stolen in Crawford Co.

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Nov. 27—Sheriff's deputies continued their search today for a new 1948 GMC truck, belonging to the Crawford County Farm Bureau.

Farm Bureau officials said the truck was stolen from a building near the bureau's elevator on the Plymouth road some time Thursday night.

DeMolay Hears Plans For Cage Tournament

At a meeting of Marion Chapter No. 288, Order of DeMolay, Wednesday night in the Masonic Temple, a letter was read from the Ohio State Council of the Order of DeMolay regarding temporary plans for a state basketball tournament. Plans were made to study the chapter interest in such a tournament and named on a committee in charge were James Williams, chairman, William Barnhart, Richard Bechtel and Guy Stoner. Donald E. Kelly, master councilor, presided for the meeting.

An announcement was made of a mid-winter meeting of the Ohio State Council to be held Jan. 22-23, 1949, in Columbus.

Plans were made to revise the chapter by-laws to change the semi-annual election of officers from June and December, to March and September to conform with a statewide uniform system.

Frank Hall reported on the DeMolay float which was entered in the recent Christmas parade. The float consisted of a large organ to which was attached a public address system with Christmas carols being played during the entire parade by John Cheney, a DeMolay member.

At the next meeting Wednesday, Dec. 8, election of officers will be held.

Fire Destroys Delaware Automobile Near Ashley

Special to The Star

ASHLEY, Nov. 27—A car driven by Roy Siders of Delaware caught fire at 8 p. m. last night on route 229 four miles west of Ashley and was a total loss before the Ashley fire department could arrive on the scene. Firemen said the blaze was caused by sparks from the car's exhaust setting fire to the floor boards.

Sales Ad Group To Hear Ernest L. Little.

The results of test-tube magic will be featured in a talk on "New Developments in Agriculture, Industry and Science" which will be presented by Ernest L. Little, president of Research Associates of Columbus at 11:45 a.m. Wednesday at Hotel Harding before the Sales Advertising club of the Marion Chamber of Commerce.

Many exhibits showing new products that are the result of scientific advancements during recent years will illustrate the talk. Some of these products are so new that they are not yet on the market.

For a number of years, Mr. Little was an industrial and research consultant for eastern financial institutions, later he was an industrial director for the city of Woonsocket, R. I., and was engaged in similar work in Oklahoma City.

Following Mr. Little's talk, a question and answer period will be held.

STUDENTS WARNED AGAINST NEW FAD

By The Associated Press

AVA, Ill., Nov. 27 — A high school principal has warned students they will be expelled from school if they continue the fad of self-induced blackouts which he had ordered halted.

The blackouts — termed "red outs" by the students were described by an Ava physician as comparable to blackouts suffered by fliers in pulling out of long, steep dives.

In Chicago, Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association, termed the practice as evidence of 'mass psychological disturbances which occur among adolescents from time to time."

As to the effectiveness of the students' method of blacking out, Dr. Fishbein said: "just how much is mental and how much physical requires careful determination."

Principal J. H. Hammack of the Tri-County consolidated high school here said students had been warned they would be expelled if they continued practicing the fad.

Hammack said the practice came to a head when a girl freshman blacked herself out 15 times. She finally became unconscious for two hours and required a stimulant before she came out of it in hysteria. Later she told a girl friend she dreamed "some vague" shapeless monster was chasing her. A doctor said he treated her for anoxemia. The girl friend fainted and suffered convulsions during her schoolmate's unconsciousness.

Hammack called a school assembly to permit the students to witness tre reviving of the girls.

Canadians To Halt Potato Export to U.S.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 — American potato growers won't have to compete with the Canadian product the rest of this marketing season.

The agriculture department gave that assurance yesterday in announcing that the Canadian government has agreed to halt all spud exports Dec. 1 except those sent to this country for seed purposes.

In recent weeks American growers and congress members have protested that the Canadians were underselling home grown potatoes at a time when the U. S. government was spending $100,000,000 to take 63,500,000 surplus bushels off the market.

But I added firmly [illegible] ing to obey your orders this time, [illegible] else."

"You'll probably land in the house gow for attempted husband slaying," Katharine commented. "But more power to you."

"What's the program?" I asked.

"Just keep him lying down, and don't let him do any gesticulating with that right arm. Dr. Twitchell has fixed up the wounded one, so he can't move that. But he may talk—say a half hour at a time—then make him lie back and rest for ten minutes—with nobody near him."

"I'll see that your program is followed," I said determinedly. "What about food and medicines?"

"He had a rather late breakfast," she said. "He won't need anything save a glass of water before your usual luncheon time. And he's had all the dosing he needs until I come over again."

"Why, where are you going?" I asked in quick, unreasoning alarm at being left alone to care for my wounded husband.

She laughed softly at my worried tone, and Mary and Lillian who had joined us, leaving Dicky with Faith, Junior and Roderick, echoed her muted mirth.

"Auntie Madge you're positively being mid-Victorian," Mary gibed. "Don't tell me you're going to swoon at the prospect of tending that bullet wound."

"Of course not," I said tartly, "and, of course, Katharine, you must go over to your apartment and rest. You must be dead for sleep."

"I could use forty or eighty winks," she admitted.

"So could I," Lillian said. "Have you an extra cot in your apartment?"

"Not a cot, a real day bed, guaranteed most comfortable. Come right along and pound your shell-like ears with mine. It's in another room, sound proof against snores from either of us."

"I'll be with you—when?" Lillian asked.

"In three more minutes. I'll just take a gander at my patient, and see how he's reacting to playing [illegible] to adding followers."

"Try to show me out!" Mary said with burlesqued truculence. Now, Me, I'm going to enjoy an old-fashioned Graham chewing of the fat."

Loan Consultation Service

Without any obligation on your part, an officer of the bank will privately and confidentially advise with you should you want a personal loan, a loan on life insurance, real estate, home improvements, refrigerator, washing machine, radio or automobile. No need for an appointment.

"I actually sleep better since I obtained my loan"

Next to food, men the world over worry more about financial affairs than any other one thing. Probably health is of more importance but we doubt it.

Time and again we have sat down with men and women who seem distracted because of the need of an immediate loan. Many of them seemed to think that their making a loan implied their own negligence in money matters.

Quite the contrary is true. Business would not move ahead if everyone bought and paid for everything with cash. Loans are made every hour of the day—thousands of them.

If you need money for any of the things or services listed in the Loan Consultation Service announcement above, why not drop in today and have a frank talk with one of our officers.

This entails no obligation or charge of any kind.

IN THE LATE FALL [illegible] bridges [illegible] enemy [illegible] We entertained no hope of [illegible] these bridges for our [illegible] later use.

Our reasons [illegible] bridges were based on a consideration of [illegible] and effectiveness. T[illegible] destroy merely a few was of little use. A total of twenty-six [illegible] bridges, it was reported to me at that time, spanned the [illegible] of them would have to be [illegible] useless or the effort would be only partially effective. Even with the best of flying conditions the task would require a prolonged and heavy bombing effort. The Air Staff calculated that destruction of the bulk of the bridges would require vastly more time and bomb tonnage than we could afford to divert from other vitally important purposes.

One of the greatest of these other purposes was to deplete Germany's reserves of fuel oil. By this time the enemy was getting into a precarious position with respect to this vital item of supply. The orders to the heavy bombers were [illegible] refineries and [illegible] systems to the limit of their ability. This tactic had a great effect not only generally upon the entire war-making power of Germany but also directly upon the front.

• • •

THROUGH LATE November and early December the badly stretched condition of our troops caused constant anxiety, particularly on Bradley's front. In order to maintain the two attacks that we then considered important we had to concentrate available forces in the vicinity of the Roer dams on the north and bordering the Saar on the south. This weakened the static or protective force in the Ardennes region.

The responsibility for maintaining only four divisions on the Ardennes front and for running the risk of a large German penetration in that area was mine. At any moment from November 1 onward I could have passed to the defensive along the whole front and made our lines absolutely secure from attack while we awaited reinforcements.

The German Sixth Panzer Army, which had appeared on our front, was the strongest and most efficient mobile reserve remaining to the enemy within his whole country. At that time some Intelligence reports indicated a growing anxiety about our weakness in the Ardennes, where we knew that the enemy was increasing his infantry formations. Previously he had, like ourselves, been using that portion of the front in which to rest tired divisions.

• • •

THIS TYPE OF REPORT, however, is always coming from one portion or another of a front. The commander who took counsel only of all the gloomy Intelligence estimates would never win a battle, he would forever be sitting, fearfully waiting for the predicted catastrophes.

In any event the fighting during the autumn followed the pattern I had personally prescribed. We remained on the offensive and weakened ourselves where necessary to maintain those offensives. This plan gave the German opportunity to launch his attack against a weak portion of our lines. If giving him that chance is to be condemned by historians their condemnation should be directed at me alone.

• • •

The Battle of the Adennes, sometimes called the Battle of the Bulge, was Hitler's last bid for victory in the war. Von Rundstedt was in command of the German forces on December 16, 1944, when a staff officer reported to General Eisenhower and General Bradley, at the former's headquarters, a few slight penetrations of the American lines in the Ardennes. Eisenhower knew at once that this was no local attack, but both he and Bradley knew also that it set the stage for the "calculated risk" which both men took and which finally marked the end of Germany as a fighting power.

The beginning of this battle will be described in Monday's installment of "Crusade in Europe," to be published here.

Mark Women's Day At Central Church

Tomorrow will be designated as Women's Day at Central Christian church. Guest preacher for the morning worship service will be Rev. Gerald Sias of Indianapolis, Ind. He is the general director of "A Crusade for a Christian World," a three-year program of the Disciples of Christ designed to increase the effective ministry and general growth of that brotherhood. Mr. Sias came to this responsible position direct from a four-year pastorate at the First Christian church of Ponca City, Okla.

Others participating in the morning service are Miss Florence Betz, president of the Women's council, Mrs. Eldred Johnston and Mrs. Oscar Cross.

At 2:30 p. m. Dr. Sias will meet with the official board of the church to discuss the Crusade.

A special evening service will be held, to which the whole congregation is invited. At that service Dr. Sias will speak on the crusade and answer questions from the congregation. The evening service will begin at 7:30, Rev. Eldred Johnston, pastor announced.

Your Good Health

Safe Ways of Hair Removal.

The excessive growth of hair over one or more parts of the body is called hypertrichosis. This condition may occur in either sex, but is of special concern to women who are apt to worry about it more as a detriment to good looks than for its possible bearing on health.

While it is true that excessive hair may occur in women who are otherwise perfectly heathy and normal, it may also be an indication of certain serious conditions, such as tumor of the adrenal glands, located just above the kidneys, tumor of the ovaries, or of the pituitary gland at the base of the brain.

Fortunately, these disorders are of very rare occurrence. Nevertheless, they are also so grave that in any disturbance of normal hair growth, they must be ruled out before other treatment is started. This requires a careful study by the doctor, including an X-ray of the skull if there is any question of tumor of the pituitary.

Once it is established that none of these serious conditions is causing excessive growth of hair, treatment aimed at getting rid of it may be started.

By and large the most satisfactory method of dealing with it is shaving, and most doctors will advise this course even though it does not appeal to their women patients. Most women have the idea that repeated shaving will not only make the hair coarse but will cause it to grow more rapidly. Neither of these things is true.

The alternatives to shaving all have more or less serious objections. X-rays will cause wasting of the skin, the formation of large blood vessels and, sometimes, severe itching. Thus, the woman who uses this method runs a chance of substituting one blemish for another and, at the same time, lets herself in for considerable discomfort.

The use of powders or pastes containing a chemical known as barium sulphide is shunned by a great many doctors on the ground tha it not only tends to redden the skin but stimulates the hair growth as well.

Pulling the hair out with tweezers may cause chronic inflammation around the hair roots.

Removal of the hair by the electric needle is slow and painful, but is useful when only a limited number of hairs need to be removed.

When an excessive amount of hair occurs during the change of life, as sometimes happens, treatment with stilbestrol should be employed to relieve whatever symptoms are present. However, this substance has no affect on the growth of hair.

Women who have disturbances of hair growth should consult their physicians for examination as soon as possible. It is important that tumors, or any glandular disturbance which may be present, be determined and proper treatment carried out.

Questions and Answers

E. T.: What is lupus erythematosus?

Answer: Lupus erythematosus is a disorder characterized by pinkish or reddish-colored patches of various sizes and shapes, usually on the face, and leaves thin, white scars. The cause of this eruption is not definitely known.

X-ray treatments seem to be the most satisfactory way to clear up the eruption temporarily. A lotion containing zinc sulphate, sulphur, and sulphurated potassium is helpful. Radium also has been used in treating the disorder.

Faces Traffic Charges In 2 Municipal Courts

Special to The Star

GALION, Nov. 27 — R[illegible] Pflieder, 20, of Galion, was fined $5 and costs when tried before Mayor H. H. Harms Friday [illegible] charge. Pflieder was brought to Galion after he and Paul Buchanan, 18, appeared in Bucyrus police court on traffic violations.

Pflieder was fined $100 and costs at Bucyrus by Mayor R. J. Hertzer. He entered a guilty plea to a charge of [illegible] while under the influence of alcohol. His companion, Buchanan, also of Galion, was fined $25 and costs after he pleaded guilty to an intoxication charge. Both paid the fines and were released from city jail where they had been held since Wednesday afternoon.

Police reported the two men were arrested in Bucyrus Wednesday evening after the automobile driven by Pflieder speeded through a west side filling station. It was driven in an erratic manner on Harding Way West and South State road and then headed for Bucyrus at a high rate of speed. Bucyrus police were alerted by Galion police to watch for the car and driver.

ATTEND CONFERENCE

Miss Joan Stuber, Miss Jeanette Dunn, Shannon Dunn and James Stahl, members of St. Mary CYO, are in Columbus attending a two-day meeting of the Catholic Youth Council of the Columbus diocese of the Catholic church. Delegates from 23 counties will take part in the conference which is being held at St. Mary of the Springs college. Miss Kathleen McCann, former Columbus resident and now a member of the National Catholic Welfare Conference at Washington, will be one of the speakers.

Two Boys Held In Bowling Alley Theft

Two Marion youths, one aged 16 and the other 17, have been taken into police custody in connection with the investigation of the breaking and entering of the Marion Recreation Bowling Alley early Friday morning.

Chief Marks revealed today that $312 in cash had been removed from the bowling alley in the Friday morning burglary.

The two youths were being held today at city prison until called for by juvenile authorities. Other arrests may be expected in this case in the near future Chief Marks said. Evidence uncovered by police investigators thus far reveal the bowling alley burglary to be the work of a well organized band of juvenile delinquents, the chief concluded. This marks the first gang of juvenile criminals encountered by the local department since the breakup of a large gang of delinquents who terrorized grocery store and small shop operators here last spring.

COM-MENTS

By Carson J. Cook

Dear Friends,

During the last few years, economic conditions made it necessary for you to make a shortage list to determine just what things you wanted to buy when you were fortunate enough to find them.

Recently, however, you have been able to remove some of the items from your list—but not life insurance. It will definitely remain on your shortage list. You can't always get it when you want it.

Many persons have gone to bed feeling fine, insurable, and with good intentions of securing insurance in the future, only to wake up the next morning no longer insurable. Today you may get this planned estate—tomorrow you may not. Determine your insurability now.

200 AT CHURCH BOOTH FESTIVAL

Eastern Section of Lima District at Epworth Event.

Approximtaely 200 Methodist Youth Fellowship members and adult advisors attended the annual booth festival for the eastern section of the Lima district at Wesley Methodist church in Marion Friday afternoon. A banquet at 6:30 in the church dining room concluded the festival in which 22 churches and charges participated. Booths were erected in Sunday school rooms and balcony of the church basement and were constructed to represent a theme appropriate to the idea of the festival. Cash and supplies of canned goods gathered up previously among the various congregations by the young people of the Fellowship groups were given for the Methodist children's home at Worthington and Flower hospital at Toledo.

Booths were judged in four classifications, with those of the following churches winning first, second and third places in each: "beauty," Upper Sandusky, Green Camp and Wesley Marion; "value," Waldo, Silver Creek and Upper Sandusky; "originality," Huntsville, Rushsylvania and Mt. Victory, and "message," Epworth Marion, Hopewell and Harper. Awards were announced at the dinner hour.

A program at 4 p. m. included worship period in charge of the Green Camp Fellowship group. Lowell Hedges of Green Camp, district president, presided, and a message was by Norman Roettger of Green Camp, student at Ohio State university. A nativity playlet was given by Mary Lou Faulkner and Jack Williams of Epworth church, with Miss Margaret Huffman as narrator. At the banquet, the speaker was Rev. Karl Gungerson, Swedish minister now studying at Garret Biblical institute at Evanston, Ill. The festival was in charge of Rev. F. Melvin Wentz of Green Camp, general chairman. Dr. Edwin A. Brown was host pastor. The banquet was served by Circle No. 5 of Wesley church.

YUGOSLAVIA FEELING COMINFORM SQUEEZE

By The Associated Press

BELGRADE, Nov. 27—Premier Marshal Tito says trade restrictions by cominform nations have forced Yugoslavia to revamp her five-year plan.

Tito's announcement, released last night to the foreign press, was made Thursday before the second congress of the Croatian Communist party in Zagreb.

The premier declared the "regroup" of Yugoslav industrialization does not mean a backward step. He said it will lead to the same ends of the five year plan.

A successful achievement of the plan will be Yugoslavia's answer to all slanders he asserted.

Lashing out at Yugoslav reactionaries and Communist critics alike, Tito promised a sharpening fight against capitalist remnants and against those of the Yugoslav Communist party who support the cominform resolution condemning Yugoslavia.

"This minority must bow before us or disappear," he said.

(The cominform — Communist international information bureau—accused Yugoslav leaders of deviating from the Marxist-Leninist line.)

Jack Benny Show Goes to CBS Jan. 2

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 27—The Sunday night Jack Benny show switches from the National Broadcasting Company to the Columbia Broadcasting System next Jan. 2.

Date for the move, which had been expected, was set yesterday.

NBC and CBS had been struggling for the comedian's show, and trade circles quoted figures as high as $4,000,000 involved in the deal.

The Benny program will continue to be broadcast from Hollywood for the same sponsor, at the same time, 7 to 7:30 p. m. (EST) Sunday, CBS announced.

Is Unwanted Hair Hiding Your Natural Beauty and Charm?
Superfluous hair causes so much unhappiness that it changes the mental attitude of those that have it—gives them a dark outlook on life—changes them from a carefree person to a nervous, shy person, because they are always trying to hide their face from the people that they meet. No matter how well you are dressed, or how you apply your make up, you cannot keep superfluous hair from being seen. No case is too far advanced, if you tweeze, shave or use other methods to remove the hair temporarily, you owe it to yourself, your family and friends to have hair permanently removed by electrolysis, the only method endorsed by physicians everywhere.
All work is done by appointment, from 1:30 to 9 p. m. Phone 5325 during these hours for appointment or write for free information. There is no charge for private consultation. I use the Brantronic Short Wave system on the legs and arms and it removes around 1,000 hairs per hour. On the face, I use the Kree ten needle machine for coarse hairs, and it removes around 120 hairs per hour. The charge for either machine is $5 per hour. Work done for men and women.
Why go through your life being unhappy because you have superfluous hair when you can have it permanently removed?

COLUMBUS POLICE ARREST 2 SUSPECTS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 27—Columbus police held two men for investigation last night while detectives investigated what they believed might be a statewide shoplifting ring.

They confiscated radios, dresses, topcoats, fur coats and men's suits and were attempting to determine ownership of the articles.

Arrest in Chillicothe last week of John Mathews, 20, and Arthur Hill, 21, both of Columbus, started the investigation of a suspected ring, police said.

The two were charged with grand larceny in connection with the theft of a suit. They were bound over to the Ross county grand jury and released on bond.

Columbus detectives took them into custody, later releasing Hill when they said investigation indicated he was not involved in Columbus thefts. A third man then was taken into custody to be held for investigation.

Police said the investigation involved thefts in Columbus, Chillicothe, Circleville, London, Washington C. H., Middletown, Dayton, Canton, Wooster, Loudonville, Mt. Vernon, Marion, Athens, Jackson, Nelsonville, Mansfield and Zanesville.

Marion city police expressed surprise today at reports the alleged Columbus shoplifters claimed to have stolen here. No unsolved shoplifting cases are on file here and neither of the alleged shoplifters is listed in police files, Chief Marks said today.

Messiah Rehearsal To Be Held Sunday

Another practice for presentation of Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah," by the Marion Civic chorus will be held at Epworth Methodist church tomorrow at 4 p. m. The chorus, composed of nearly 100 voices from cooperating church choirs and other music groups of the city, will give the oratorio Sunday night, Dec. 5, at Epworth church. Guest soloists will be Miss Florence McCracken and Prof. Norman Staiger of the Ohio State university school of music faculty, and Mrs. E. N. Hale, chorus president, will be contralto soloist. For the seventh year, the chorus is presenting the work under the present Civic chorus organization. It was stated that more choral work is being prepared than for performances of former years.

Other members of the chorus board, besides Mrs. Hale, are Mrs. Fanny Benson, Mrs. Clara Campbell, Mrs. W. J. Wise, Earl Smart, William Thomas, Mrs. H. K. Mouser, Mrs. William Ackerman, Mrs. Karl Schell, Mrs. Leroy Schneider, George Oborn, William Ackerman, and the accompanists, Miss Rosaline Manzo, Mrs. Gerald Jennings, Miss Maye Evangeline Lawrence and Mrs. Harry T. Williams.

Columbus Paper Increases Price

COLUMBUS, Nov. 27—The delivered price of the daily Columbus Dispatch will be boosted to 30 cents a week beginning Monday, an increase of six cents.

The Dispatch said steadily mounting costs of production and of newsprint accounted for the rise.

VOTE FOR RACIAL BAN

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 27—Representatives of American college fraternities have voted unofficially to continue the ban on Negroes. Delegates from 25 colleges at the National Interfraternity Conference voted yesterday to keep the discriminatory clause barring Negroes from membership. Twelve opposed the ban. Representatives of 19 colleges were absent at the time of the vote, taken in an informal show of hands. Officials of the 40th annual conference emphasized the tally was merely an expression of opinion. The question of religious discrimination also came up but no definite vote was taken.

DEATHS and FUNERALS

Robert C. Sogge

Robert C. Sogge, 53, of 803 Nelson street, died at 1:30 p. m. Friday in City hospital of cerebral hemorrhage. He was admitted to the hospital earlier in the day.

Born Aug. 10, 1895, in Leland, Mich., he was a son of Lars R. and Bertha J[illegible] Sogge, natives of Norway. A resident of Marion eight and a half years, he came here from [illegible]. He was a veteran of World War I and a member of American Legion. Inducted into the army Dec. 14, 1917, at [illegible], he was trained at Camp Custer, Mich. A corporal, he served with a detachment of the AEF June 10 to Dec. 4, 1918 and received his discharge Dec. 23, 1916. He operated the Sogge Cabinet shop.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Milda Hagerman Sogge, whom he married June 25, 1941 in Fostoria, a brother, Harry L. Sogge of Cadillac, Mich., and sisters, Mrs. Otta Bardie and Mrs. Eleanor Kle[illegible] of Suttons Bay, Mich., and Mrs. Guy Whitmore of Detroit.

Funeral services will be conducted at 3:30 p. m. Monday in the M. H. Gunder and Sons funeral home by Rev. M. A. Hohenzen, pastor of Emmanuel Lutheran church. Burial will be in Marion cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home after 7:30 tonight.

Mrs. Odie Ann Davie

Mrs. Odie Ann Davie, 21, wife of Donald Davie of Challis, Idaho, formerly of Marion, died there early Friday after the birth of a son. The Davies moved to Idaho last June.

Born March 8, 1927, Mrs. Davie was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gillespie. She was graduated from Prospect High school in 1945. Her marriage to Mr. Davie was July 12, 1946 in Marion.

Survivors with her husband and son include her father, who lives at Prospect, her mother, Mrs. C. H. ## Galion Woman Hurt When Hit by Car

Special to The Star

GALION, Nov. 27—Mrs. B. K. Place suffered a broken bone above her right knee and an injury to her head when she was struck by a car driven by Miss Kathryn Melcher of Mt. Gilead, a nurse at the City hospital here, at 11 o'clock last night. The accident occurred at the corner of East Church and North Market streets as Miss Melcher was making a left turn into Market street. The rain prevented her from seeing the pedestrian, Miss Melcher said. Mrs. Place was taken to the City hospital where further X-rays were to be taken today.

Long Live the Opposition

MUCH thought is being given to proposals for reforming the electoral college—more thought than usually follows a presidential election because of a particular circumstance that has developed in the wake of this year's election.

The [illegible] being made by some persons and organizations on the winning side is that the losing side, having failed to win, should abandon all further opposition. This adoption of the absolutist creed of dictatorship is significant and alarming.

It even has been adopted in some instances by spokesmen for the losers, who seem to have reached by devious reasoning the conclusion that there remains nothing for the Republican party to do but adopt the policies of the New Deal and leave its Republican followers high and dry because they are in the minority.

This shows scant understanding of and no sympathy with the operation of a two-party system. The fact is that if electoral votes were divided between President Truman and Governor Dewey in proportion to popular votes, the President would receive 261.2 votes and Governor Dewey would receive 222.5 votes—certainly no landslide for the winner and certainly no popular command for the loser "to drop dead."

It must be doubted that those who are misrepresenting the election results as a landslide for one side and a crushing defeat for the other side really mean to deny the opposition its inalienable right to oppose. If the election has gone the other way, as it easily might have gone with the change of less than 50,000 votes under the weird workings of the electoral college system, the same persons and organizations now claiming an absolute mandate would be insisting on their own inalienable right to oppose. That's the American way of doing it.

"A Decent Bloke"

IN THE geyser of a sympathy for Britain's King George VI, who had to wait for the eventuality of a game leg to bring him a little of the attention showered on his better known daughter, there may be observed some of the qualities which make the British throne the envy of less secure monarchs.

The consensus of Britain's little people is that their king is a solid man," decent bloke." Their political leaders share this estimate. King George is admirable for what he is more than for what he symbolized. Right now he is a fiftyish man with a obstruction of circulation in his legs. He resents this because it interferes with his work. Those who look up to him resent it because it interferes with his kingship—a chore he has performed conscientiously under unusual handicaps. They admire him for his diligence, his patience and his modesty; he is less of a king in the royal tradition than an earnest citizen in the British tradition. British kings were not always thus but after the example of George VI and his father, George V, it seems likely that the wise ones may never choose to be any other way.

Is Someone Crazy?

FIRST in the order of post-Thanksgiving thoughts that will bear discussing is one about turkey hash.

A worthy specimen of the traditional Thanksgiving fowl lends itself to a traditional series of eating experiences, beginning with drumsticks and slices of white meat and ending, some three or four days later, with turkey soup.

But in the meantime there has been turkey hash, which many believe to be the ultimate experience in the whole Thanksgiving celebration. It is one of the things that make men thankful. It is with this in mind that many thankful men are viewing with alarm the persistent efforts to substitute for full-scale turkeys an economy model that will produce no turkey hash—that will not even produce a drumstick worthy of the name.

These miniature fowl would be gobbled at one sitting. It is a sobering thought. One can only ask, as one must ask about many things being proposed these days for the presumed advancement of a better life, "Is someone crazy?" Without turkey hash, Thanksgiving might as well be observed with hamburgers in the first place.

Did You Know

The earliest historian probably was Herodotus.

The United States is now using as much oil as did the entire world about 10 years ago.

If ponds used for fish are fertilized, the growth of plankton (microscopic water animals and plants) is increased and the production of fish is increased sharply.

Islands in the delta of the Lena River are composed partly of ice and partly of earth and it is believed they would sink below the surface of the water if the summers were long enough to melt the ice.

When workers in one plant complained of the cold, the walls were painted a coral color and the complaints stopped. The workers said they felt warm although the temperature had not been changed.

China Now No. 1 Problem

By David Lawrence

Transcends Berlin Blockade as Top U. S. Worry

WASHINGTON

CHINA has become the No. 1 problem of the moment—even transcending the Berlin blockade in the realm of worry and concern.

The issue is not merely whether one faction or the other shall be helped in a civil war. Nor is the question merely one of giving aid to the nationalist government.

What is at stake is the future of the United States in the Far East. World War II was fought to stamp out autocratic control in Germany and Japan because this was a threat to the peace of the world. But when Japanese militarism was crushed, it was assumed that China would be a friendly power. Now it turns out that Russia may control China and that friction between America and a Communist government in China will develop in much the same way as it has between America and the satellite states of Europe now under Soviet domination.

Did America go to all the trouble it did to wrest power from one FarEastern power only to allow the whole Asiatic mainland next to Japan to be controlled by Soviet Russia? This is the question being asked in official quarters as efforts are made to determine a policy toward China.

ALTHOUGH THE CHINA problem has been bothering officials for a long time, the tendency has been to let it drift, never coming to grips with the real issue which is whether China and Korea shall be left to the Russians to control.

Somewhat the same situation confronted the United States in Greece and Turkey just before the Truman doctrine was announced. America saw Russian aggression sweeping to the Mediterranean and declared it must stop. Aid was furnished to both Greece and Turkey and while a guerrilla faction financed and supplied by the Soviets still makes life miserable for the regular Greek government, the Russian march to the south has been halted.

All this has cost the American taxpayer money and to do the same thing in the Far East will also cost a good deal too. It has been estimated that with half a billion dollars a year and about 16,000 American officers and enlisted men, a mission to China can strengthen the Nationalist government and put new spirit into the anti-Communist fight.

FROM THE STANDPOINT of international law, aid requested by a government previously recognized may be extended without breaching custom. The Nationalist government has formally invited American aid, and it is known that General Chiang Kai-shek desperately seeks American help. Indeed, it is said he will accept complete American supervision over the distribution of supplies so that the criticism concerning previous waste of materials and equipment will be met.

Traditionally the United States is the friend of China. In world affairs China has shown herself to be the friend of the United States. While there is much to criticize in the way the Nationalist government functions—it is autocratic and surrounded by corruption and incompetency — those who know Chinese affairs say any government dominated by the Communists or any coalition of the two factions would be subject to the same weaknesses.

WHAT THE UNITED STATES must decide very soon is whether to get out of the Far East altogether and render futile all the sacrifices made to rid the world of Japanese militarism, or face the grim facts, namely that China needs help and that the Nationalist government can be helped in a military way by a new mission of men and money.

Americans who have studied the Chinese situation differ as to the practicality of any aid extended at this time—some say it is too late and that the Communists have already gotten the upper hand, and others say that the civil war will last for many years more and that American aid will at least in the near future have the effect of preventing the Soviets from opening up a new flank for harassment of America.

The final policy has not yet been made but the trend is toward aid to China for the very simple reason that the alternative means the rise of the Soviets in the Far East and possibly much more expense to protect American interests later on in the event of another world war.

Two Patterns for Labor

By George E. Sokolsky

THE conventions of the AFL at Cincinnati and of the CIO at Portland, Oregon, are indicative of a pattern:

1. The labor federations have at last acknowledged that their most severe problem is Communist infiltration into their organization. The AFL makes no bones about it and hits hard; the CIO has organic difficulties arising from the fact that John L. Lewis, when he organized the CIO, knowingly used Communists as organizers and got stuck with them. Nevertheless, the CIO, as the AFL, is taking a definite stand in opposition to Communism.

In New York, the CIO disciplined its local council for supporting Henry Wallace, which was a wrong reason for a correct action. It is a doubtful practice at best for labor unions to become adjuncts of political parties in this country where a citizen votes as an individual, not as part of a class or a mob. If one may support Truman or Dewey, another may support Wallace. The New York council should have been disciplined, if that is what the CIO desired to do, frankly because it permitted the Communist International line to control an American union. That would have been a tenable position, and is actually what the CIO did, although the statement was muted.

• • •

SIMILARLY, while Phil Murray is as anti-Communist in his statements as Matthew Woll, he nevertheless dares not purge his unions of Communists for the obvious reason that the 13 Communist International unions might leave the CIO altogether. It has become customary for CIO apologists to say that only the leaders of such unions are Communists but that the rank and file are not. How does anyone know that precisely?

We have witnessed, for instance, the curious picture of Mike Quill who, in New York, heads a predominantly Roman Catholic group of workers. Quill played with the Communists for many years and was even accused not only by outsiders but by some Communists of being one of them. Then he quit them and got into a smearing operation with them. One would have imagined that the rank and file of that union would stand solidly behind Quill, welcoming the pentitent left-winger with open arms. But that is not so. Mike Quill is having lots of trouble and the Communists are still very effective in his union.

It is the uncertainty of the real Communist strength in the left-wing unions that undoubtedly causes Phil Murray to feel that the time is not ripe for a purge.

• • •

NEVERTHELESS, if support of the foreign policy of this country, particularly the Marshall plan, is made the criterion of loyalty to the CIO, as apparently it is being made by both the AFL and CIO, then the Communists are in difficulties, for they have to choose between the Kremlin and the CIO. It will be interesting to observe what this does.

2. The other pattern has to do with the Taft-Hartley act, which both organizations say they wish to have repealed. And both contend that they wish to have the Wagner act reinstated. But obviously the Wagner act needs to be amended. Underneath all this, it would appear, is a desire to combine the Wagner act and the Taft-Hartley act to keep certain provisions of each.

It will be interesting to see how this works out. The craftsmen of CIO legislation, Lee Pressman and Nathan Witt, have fallen from grace. Lee Pressman's influence, not only over that organization but over very act of government in industrial relations, has been paramount since 1937. He has not only been the lawyer but the philosopher of left-wing trade unionism and his philosophy was, in all respects, Marxist. It is because most of the young lawyers attached to the Wagner act national labor relations board were under Marxist influence and orientation that the Wagner act became an instrument of national disruption.

• • •

LAWS ARE instruments which men use and the same law in different hands may produce altogether different results. Once the Marxist theory of the class struggle ceases to dominate the CIO and the NLRB, then many pictures will be in different perspective.

It is too early to reach conclusions; I am merely describing trends apparent at two conventions.

Car's Acid Stomach

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK—Ninety per cent of engine wear in your automobile may be due to the action of acids, and not friction, Shell Oil Co. research scientists report.

"In short trips about town—to the office, the bank, and shopping—the average motorist runs his engine for brief periods of time only," said C. E. Davis, vice president in charge of manufacturing. "When the engine is thus intermittently on and off, it runs 'cold,' with the result that combustion may be incomplete and partially burned fuel gases and moisture attack the smoothly polished metal surfaces chemically. It is this type of acid action that accounts for up to 90 per cent of engine wear."

Research is seeking means of preventing the acid action, and thus add years to the life of the engine.

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Sunday, Nov. 27, 1938.

Marion, in the small hours of the morning, experienced the lowest temperature reading of the season, 11 degrees above zero.

"Before you leap into matrimony be sure you know each other," Dr. Harry L. Bell told the many young couples in his sermon, which was one of a series of talks on marriage he was giving at Central Christian church.

The non-commissioned officers club of Co. D. 166th Infantry, Ohio National Guard, met for a rabbit dinner at the Armory. Guests were Captain H. L. Taylor, Lieut. Carl F. Ebert and Lieut. Robert F. Melby.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Oshsenbein, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bowersock, Mrs. Fred Miller and Mrs. Laura Straw attended a meeting of posts and auxiliaries in District No. 2, Veterans of Foreign Wars, at Marysville.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Kline and daughter Nancy Sue returned to their home in Cleveland after spending the Thanksgiving holiday and weekend with Mrs. Kline's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Probst of East Center street.

Rev. Marvin Lewis, Cleveland, Tenn. evangelist, closed a three weeks' evangelistic service at the Asbury M. E. church.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It wae Tuesday, Nov. 27, 1928.

The USS Maryland was proceeding southward towards Corinto, Nicaragua, the third port of call of President-elect Hoover's Latin-American "friendship" tour.

Greenwood Street school broke Marion school banking records with a 100 per cent school deposit. This meant that every child in the school deposited at least one cent to his or her savings account in Marion banks.

Mrs. O. G. Briggs and daughter Dorothy of South Vine street had gone to Cleveland to be holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Briggs.

Rev. Lawrence A. Wood of Mansfield, who had accepted the pastorate of Trinity Baptist church and his wife and three daughters moved into the parsonage on South State street.

Mrs. Rosina Polk Voorhees, 83, widow of O. H. Voorhees and a native of Scotland, died at her home on East Center street.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bacon, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hiller, J. T. Johnston, Leo Patton and George Laughman, of the local Patriarchs Militant, I.O.O.F., attended a meeting of the Kenton lodge.

Television Spreads

By The Associated Press

LONDON—The British television audience is growing steadily. The General Post Office reports 3,450 persons took out television receiving licenses in August to run the total up to 61,700 in Great Britain and Northern Ireland.

Radio receiving license including television numbered 11,324,400. There were 509 prosecutions during August for listening in without them.

Broadcasting is a government monopoly in the United Kingdom. Ordinary radio licenses cost a pound ($4) a year. Television is a pound extra.

Welcoming a Prince

By Frank Tripp

A PRINCE was born while crowds of loyal British subjects waited and mulled about Buckingham palace; watched and hoped it would be a boy.

Elsewhere around the world, in British domain, upon which the sun never sets—or does it now—people met together to be the first to get the news and first to toast a sometime ruler of their own children, perhaps.

It had the aspects of an American election, in a way. God was sending the British people an heir to the throne. Affection, loyalty and tradition decreed that the people become a part of the event. That they rejoice, even as in a democracy of our sort, and not so different after all, for ours was patterned after theirs: the people pledge their loyalty to a president, whether or not he is of their choice.

• • •

TO A HUMBLE HOME, within minutes of the royal birth, a girl was born to a British busman's wife. She was happy too—and proud. She named the babe Elizabeth, and through life that child, girl and woman will boast the age of the prince, within a few ticks of the clock. It will be a rare distinction of a sort. Anything which others cannot boast is a distinction.

A busman's child could become the First Lady of our land—but never Queen of England.

Who knows but at that very minute the 36th or 40th president of the United States was born in some American hospital, or in a farm house in the hills, with neighbors giving hand, and country doctor late, but on the way?

The sixteenth president came that way, to Nancy Hanks Lincoln in a log cabin in Kentucky. In equal obscurity and without fanfare, other presidents and great men, and women in every walk of life, came into the world. Likewise came knaves.

Few men are born to greatness, and high estate; yet most are born to some degree of goodness passed to them by the blood in their veins.

• • •

SO THERE IS POINT in rejoicing that one known to be in line of power over the lives of the people, should come from stock known to be good and of record known to be fair. There is reason for their people to rejoice.

Such background does not guarantee wisdom and justice. For even princes and kings are human and have been fallible—all save One.

Did not wise men know the coming of that One? And they traveled, led by a star to the spot, and took with them gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh. Kings they were themselves, yet their faith brought them to their knees in a manger in Bethlehem; where men now kill each other to gain less power over the world than was that day born to Mary and Joseph.

If one believes anything of history and the Bible, no matter what his race, he must in some degree rejoice with the British people. Rejoice that in their custom lies the hope of the world; the recognition of authority.

• • •

IT IS A beautiful custom, the welcoming of a newborn prince. If Americans could have equal assurance where and to whom the ruler of their children is born today, they would go there too, and wait.

We would have to stand outside every house and hospital in the land, and wait there day and night. No star in the east, no royal blood can lead us to the spot.

We elect ours, upon their records and their deeds—and, alas, haven't always done so well—yet average with the world and with human weakness which all men suffer, however born.

Parents Warned

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO—Traffic experts are stressing psychology in an effort to save some of the estimated 4,000 lives lost annually in this country through automobile accidents involving teen-age drivers. Ideas of speed and safety, they hold, are developed before youngsters actually begin to drive.

"You can teach teen-age boys and girls the mechanics of operating an automobile," declares H. G. Kemper, president of Lumbermens Mutual Casualty Co., "but their ideas of driving responsibility are formed long before then." Kemper cautions parents to be especially careful when driving with children in their cars.

Much of the blame for our high accident rate, he believes, rests on the shoulders of parents who set bad examples for their children.

THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
Washington, D. C.

This Thanksgiving [illegible] the Beltsville Bird [illegible] experiments [illegible] and you [illegible] here and there some liked [illegible] must I still [illegible] turkey at a higher price [illegible] that only the turkey [illegible] a big success.

• • •

I read the Department of Agriculture's pre-Thanksgiving [illegible] streamlined turkey [illegible] because of its being lighter [illegible] and easier to cook. I also noted your [illegible] that most people got tired of turkey hash and would welcome a bird that wouldn't linger around so long in the form of croquettes, turkey hash and turkey soup. I think it must have been all in fun.

• • •

The wife came home with one of your 1948 new-style [illegible] birds but I failed to [illegible] as it cost me more per pound than I ever paid for a Thanksgiving turk. In the second place it did go much farther than a good fat turkey and in the third, while I can get a little tired of holiday leftovers and by-products, I still like a bird that is identifiable after the first meal.

• • •

Your new Thanksgiving gobbler left me with a genuine yen for turkey soup, croquettes and even turkey hash, in fact they now stand out in memory as indispensable. That bird went so fast. I thought we had baby pigeon smothered in governmental hocus pocus. And inasmuch as it cost me two or three times what I used to pay for an oversized, full-width, Fisher body turkey and was strictly a bird of the fast disappearing type I failed to see where I saved any dough.

Furthermore, the psychology was bad. A turkey is associated with the idea of plenty. You think of a turkey dinner as an occasion for inviting the gang in. Unless you think you can hack the third bird up with a free hand and pass out the portions like it was a banquet the very spirit of Thanksgiving is knocked for a row of cold gizzards. Also the wife says she was not craving a turkey that would go into a small oven without crowding. (A tight fit is okay by her. She likes it when a bird gives trouble this way. There is no kick in having to take a second look in the oven to see if the bird is still there.)

• • •

So to make a long squawk short, we got no belt out of the Beltsville bird and we are sorry you ever thought up the idea.

Yours,

ELMER

P.S.—The sorest guys in America today (all wishing they had voted Republican) are the ones who drew the lucky numbers in turkey raffles and got one of these Beltsville canaries.

Let Christmas Alone

By Truman Twill

We don't want to have to get ugly about this, but if some of these nationally circulated magazines that make their pitch to the hoity-toities don't calm down we're personally going to smash a custard pie over somebody's marcelled head. We repeat: Marcelled head.

Obviously, the ideas published for brightening up our lives must germinate in marcelled heads, either male or female, and the difference isn't worth quibbling about. Take, for instance, the ideas for brightening up Christmas—but take 'em slowly or you'll gag.

Matter of fact, there's nothing wrong with Christmas just the way it is. It doesn't need any more whoop-de-doo. But here's this magazine which trills that it would be ever so much merrier, oh ever so much, if everybody would make synthetic mistletoe wreaths for the front door. Take half a dozen new tennis balls, honest, this is what it says, make a cluster of them on a backing of greens and there you are.

Now for the price of half a dozen tennis balls even if a fool wanted to make a cluster of them to hang on a front door, anyone who knew the ropes could have a merry Christmas without making the neighbors wonder if old bubble-head finally had gone pffft. But that isn't all this silly magazine proposes.

It burbles that it would be jolly good fun to hang crepe paper and stuff on the bed. Now if there's any place the spirit of Christmas needs to be barred from, it's bedrooms where honest people go to cork off when they're half dead from the excitement of sparring with the spirit of Christmas everywhere else. Just go away, marcelled people, and let a citizen sleep in peace, won't you?

And let's not titter about hanging Christmas presents on ribbons on a wall either, while we're reading the riot act. As if they weren't already enough trouble just wrapping them up in reams of tender tissues so ginks who don't give a whoop about tender tissues can tear them open. The place for Christmas presents is on the floor where a tired loved one who didn't want to get up for three more hours can nudge them with a slippered toe and say in a tone of resignation, "I wonder what could be in that," when he knows darned well it's either a doo-dad he doesn't need or a pair of socks he won't like.

There's the human equation to be considered in brightening Christmas—the well known fact that things can get so cute they cloy the taste of a human being with an ordinary sense of propriety, but shucks, the marcelled people who are always wanting to brighten up Christmas wouldn't understand that. If they knew what it meant to have their senses cloyed by cuteness they'd never be able to hold down their what-you-may-call-'em jobs on the magazines that appeal to hoity-toities, would they? Now you hit me with a powder puff, Gertrude, and maybe I can think up a new way to brighten up Christmas. You take half a dozen footballs and stuff them with Philadelphia cream of cheese, see?

Marion Churches To Observe Beginning of Advent Season

Tomorrow will be observed by various churches as beginning of the Advent season, time of preparation for the Christ as observance marking the beginning of the new church year for some church bodies. Date of Advent Sunday is fixed each year as the Sunday nearest Nov. 30, the date first kept in the early days of the church as the special day of St. Andrew the disciple.

Two churches have announced [illegible] Advent Sunday. [illegible] Emmanuel Lutheran church will mark the entrance upon the Advent season and beginning of the new church year at the morning worship service tomorrow as start of a spiritual preparation for Christmas.

A special inaugural service of the Advent season will be held by First Evangelical and Reformed church tomorrow morning. [illegible] processional "Rejoice All Ye Believers," the primary choir will sing "The Friendly Beasts," a twelfth century carol, and Miss Martha Rayne will sing "Sweet Little Jesus Boy" by MacGimsey. Under direction of Mrs Francis Reardon, the Stable at Bethlehem [illegible] the manger and a few "friendly beasts" will be placed on the altar together with the first Advent candle. As the weeks proceed, additional silhouette figures will be placed on the altar and additional Advent candles lit.

Wesley Service

At a service of Wesley Methodist church sponsored by the Youth Fellowship tomorrow at 7:30 p. m., A. C. May, principal of Harding High school, will be guest speaker. Special music will be a part of the service, Dr. Edwin A. Brown, pastor, announced.

A survey of personal problems at Wesley church will be launched tomorrow, when the congregation will have opportunity to state personal problems for the pastor to discuss at the following Sunday night service. He stated that the source of the problems or questions will be kept in confidence. Like other ministers, constantly presented with personal problems of members and asked for solutions, he has arranged for the special survey, he said. The problems are expected to vary from questions of how to interpret portions of the Bible to relationships of members of the family. Believing that the church should assist people who are troubled, this opportunity is being given for statement of the problems faced, and questions from those who are not members of the church will be welcome also, Dr. Brown declared.

To Show Picture

"Salt of the Earth," a religious sound motion picture film, will be presented at a special showing at St Paul's English Lutheran church tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. Produced in Pennsylvania towns, coal fields and farm areas and in Hollywood by Cathedral films for the United Lutheran church in America, it has a cast of 50 headed by Robert Armstrong, Lane Chandler, Pierre Watkin and the King's Men.

It has been described as a "sincere, down-to-earth story about a small town pastor and his people," with a theme of Christian stewardship with emphasis on personal evangelism. It's challenge is worded in the question, "What will a man do when he takes God seriously?" This four and a half reel 45-minute picture has been scheduled for showing to 4,000 congregations of the denomination in this country and Canada. It's general distribution to other groups is handled by a network of over 300 film libraries.

Catholic Shrine at Bardstorm

[illegible] at Bardstown, Ky

By FREDERICK POLLEY

BARDSTOWN, KENTUCKY, has quite wisely taken care of her historic buildings and is now enjoying an ever-increasing annual tourist pilgrimage. Bardstown has many buildings both in the residential and business districts that have an old world charm. It would be interesting to linger in that century-old town and leisurely study the people and their homes.

The town was incorporated Nov. 4, 1778. There are probably no buildings now intact that date so far back as the founding of the place, but early in the 19th century—July 16, 1816 to be exact—the Rt. Rev. Benedict Joseph Flaget laid the cornerstone of St. Joseph Cathedral, shown in the above drawing. He had been appointed Bishop of Bardstown in 1808 when the sees of New York, Philadelphia, Boston and Bardstown were created.

The cathedral was dedicated in August 1819 and is said to be the earliest cathedral west of the Alleghenies. The material used in its construction was found in the immediate neighborhood. John Rogers of Baltimore, Maryland, was the architect and builder.

St. Joseph's College, in the rear of the cathedral, dates back to 1820. It was conducted by the Jesuits from 1840 to 1868. The present rectory was built over a century ago by Bishop Flaget. Exceptional interest attaches to the cathedral because of the paintings and other valuable gifts presented to the cathedral by Louise Philippe, King of France, and a friend of Bishop Flaget.

Morality Plus

A Sermonette

By REV. J. B. HOLLOWAY

Pastor of Trinity Baptist Church

• • •

Text: "Except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no case enter into the kingdom of heaven." — Matthew 5:20.

• • •

MANY people have an erroneous conception of [illegible]. They assume that to be a Christian one has only to live a good life, to be honest and [illegible]. [illegible] on the basis of [illegible] good behavior. [illegible] the faith [illegible] deceptive and leaves [illegible] disappointment [illegible] outward veneer [illegible] are exalted. He pointed out the [illegible] depending upon self-righteousness when he spoke concerning the law abiding Jews: "[illegible] that they have a zeal [illegible] but not according to knowledge. For they being ignorant of God's righteousness, and going about to establish their own righteousness, have not submitted themselves unto the righteousness of God" (Rom. 10:[illegible]). Jesus knew so well that He told His disciples that their righteousness must exceed the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees else they could in no case enter into the kingdom of heaven. Since these groups were noted for their scrupulous observance of the very letter of the law, it is evident that there must be MORALITY PLUS if we would enter the kingdom and be saved.

Morality Plus A New Life

Merely BEING or DOING GOOD is insufficient since it is impossible for any human being to live a perfect life "for all have sinned and come short of the glory of God" Ro. 3:23. God therefore recognized the necessity of making other provision for man's salvation. By nature all men belong to the same human family, regardless of their social status, whether great or small, rich or poor, educated or ignorant, moral or immoral. They all eat, sleep, work, think, live and die. They are all faced with temptations and are prone to sin. But there is a vital difference between the natural, unregenerate man and the spiritually minded man who is a Christian. The latter is the physical, mental and moral man PLUS something else. He possesses new life and really belongs to a new order of beings, a citizen of a new kingdom into which one may enter only by a regenerating experience.

Morality Plus Faith

This new experience is mystical and springs up spontaneously as a hidden fountain in response to a vital faith in the Living God. It may come quietly and unobtrusively as a gentle breeze. "The wind bloweth where it listeth, Thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, nor whither it goeth, so is every one that is born of the Spirit," Jno. 3:8. It is never superimposed from without but must be appropriated and accepted on faith by the individual. "As many as received Him, to them gave He the power to become the sons of God even to them that BELIEVE on His name, which were born not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God" (Jno. 1:12, 13). When once this new life takes root in the heart of the person it cannot be uprooted for it is planted there by the mighty power of God and is a new creation, whereas mere morality is like iron which may be magnetized or demagnetized by contacts with a magnet or electric current.

All the great religions of the earth have some good moral precepts and worthy ideals to offer their devotees but all except Christianity are sadly lacking in that inner power to produce purity of heart, forgiveness of sin and eternal life. Jesus Christ made it plain that HIS WAY OF LIFE was not a patch on the old moth ridden garment of legal morality and Jewish ceremonialism. It was a wholly new garment.

Morality Plus Vitality

Christianity is a living, growing, unfolding organism which has direction and purpose as attested by history, whereas "morality" is static, mechanical and lifeless, like a wax figure which imitates and often deceives the casual eye. Goodness alone is not enough but coupled with vital faith a new life is born which extends into eternity.

Rules for Chimney Construction

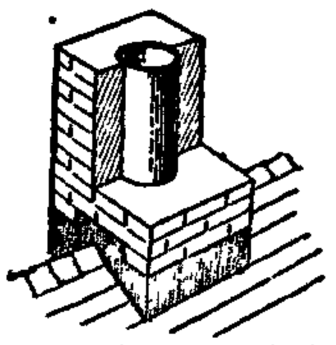
In building a chimney to carry off the smoke and gases from a fireplace or heating plant, there are certain rules of safety to be considered

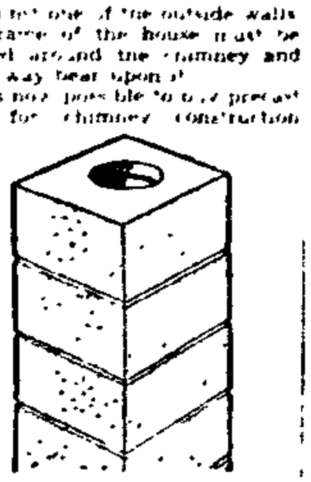
All chimneys should rest on an ample foundation which is laid below the frost line and which is large enough to bear the weight of the chimney without settling or cracking

The chimney itself should be lined with a terra-cotta flue-lining having close butted joints and set in cement mortar containing no ingredients which will be affected by heat.

All chimneys should be free-standing units of the house construction In other words they must not bear upon floor-joists or other beams or timbers used in building the house No structural wood members of the house should be built into the chimney structure so as to use it for a support Where the chimney is built inside to the house instead of against one of the outside walls the frame of the house must be framed around the chimney and in no way bear upon it

It is now possible to use precast units for chimney construction which do away with much of the work involved in the building These units are cast concrete blocks about a foot high and 16 inches square A flue-lining protrudes from one face of the block and a recess is cast in the opposite face so that they can be stacked, one on top of the other, until the desired height has been reached





Where a brick effect is desired the blocks may be encased in one thickness, or what is technically known as a brick veneer

Full mortar joints are required in this type of construction

The phrase, "according to Hoyle," was first used to mean Edmond Holle, an Englishman of the 18th century who was the first to systematize the rules of whist.

Joints in Gypsum Wallboard

Q. [illegible] boards [illegible] paper or [illegible] of some way [illegible]

A. A [illegible] You [illegible] see that the edges of the boards are not in close contact. (Some of the wallboards are made with chamfered edges to permit the application of the manufacturer's special cement and perforated tape for a neat closing of the joints.) One-eighth inch or even more space can be left between. The edges should be well nailed, spaced along the edges not more than four inches apart and six inches apart in the center If you can get the manufacturer's special cement, use it to fill the joint, or else use spackle, [illegible] thick The filled joint is then covered with a ribbon of heavy perforated paper or a strip of open-mesh fabric, two to three inches wide This is pressed into the cement to reinforce the joint and prevent cracking If your boards have been butted close together, you may be able to cut them out to form a V, which can be sized and filled, although with no assurance of permanence Before repainting, see that the walls are clean of dust and grease

Building With Cement Block

Q.: I am planning to build a house of cement block, not to cost over $6,000, on a lot which I own It will be a one-floor plan with four rooms and bath, random flooring and asphalt or linoleum floors It will be a square house with a full basement What can be done to eliminate the dampness that so many people tell me will be my lot? I would build in Columbus, Ohio, on a level lot with good sewage and drainage What is your opinion?

A.: I advise to you apply two coats of a cement base paint, containing a damp-proofer, on the outside masonry above grade If the ground is clayey, it also would be advisable to coat the outside of the cellar walls, below the ground, with a liquid asphalt dampproofing For the inside, I suggest furring out the walls for two inches, place blanket or batt-type insulation between the furring strips, and put the plasterwork over that The underside of the roof or attic should also have insulation, preferably of the same type as the walls I also advise you to put the work into the hands of an architect of small home. You will save money and many headaches in doing the work under capable supervision

CHILD FINE AFTER RARE OPERATION

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Nov. [illegible] — Theodore Muha [illegible] year old Dayton, O. boy [illegible] today from a rare lung operation [illegible] to end a condition which short-circuited the flow of blood

One physician said only about a dozen such operations have been reported and perhaps none before on so young a person The doctors who handled the case asked that they be kept anonymous

Ted had his right lung fixed up Nov. 18, and to look at him in his bed today, with his bunny and teddy bear one would not realize what a sick little boy he was just a short time ago

The child is the son of Mr and Mrs Theodore Muha

One of the physicians described the youngster's condition prior to the operation as follows

Blood that should circulate through the capillaries of the lungs in order to pick up oxygen was short-circuited through an abnormal communication between one of the main arteries and one of the veins which returned the blood from the veins to the heart

With the stricken area removed surgically the child should, upon full convalescence be able to live a completely normal and active life The child's heart was and is perfectly good, the entire trouble being concentrated in the described lung condition

Reduced to the most rudimentary layman terms, the trouble lay in a disarrangement of an artery and veins in the tissues of the lung

It was [illegible] when Ted [illegible]

Prepare Substitute For Taft-Hartley Law

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 — The administration is preparing a substitute for the Taft-Hartley labor law with built-in compromises to meet possible objections from congress, industry and labor

This it was learned today is the plan being [illegible] by a five man lawyers' team assigned to draft the new law

1 Write labor legislation which can be sent to congress with Mr. Truman's blessing and

2 Write alternatives for several sections of their draft as possible substitutes along what may be a bumpy legislative route

They plan to file the gist of the suggested new law with President Truman's aides by Monday

Exactly what it will contain is a carefully guarded secret but it was reported to call for reinstatement of most of the old Wagner labor act plus some modified Taft-Hartley provisions.

REALTORS ASK END OF RENT CONTROLS

By The United Press

NEW YORK, Nov 27 — The National Association of Real Estate Boards proposes to seek lifting of rent controls by the next congress and recommends that the federal government abandon its public housing program.

The association in a statement of policy outlined the legislation it will seek from the 81st congress.

In addition to committing the organization's 43,000 members to policies on rent control, public housing, slum clearance and allied subjects, the statement commented on "government lobbying" and praised the "historic and constructive services" of its own realtors' Washington committee

In calling for an end to rent controls next March, the real estate men said that "the greatest sustained production of housing in the history of the nation has taken place in the last two years.

"The tremendous construction of rental housing is due largely to the lifting of rent control on new construction," the statement said

The association said that where housing shortages exist, "it is a purely local matter which can best be handled locally" It therefore recommended that federal rent control not be extended beyond March 31, 1949, and that meanwhile "the present law be administered to comply with congressional intent that the property owner be permitted a reasonable return on fair value"

On public housing the association said it believed that private industry, not the federal government, should provide housing.

The association said federal subsidies for housing "constitutes a continued threat to our competitive enterprise system"

As to veterans' housing, the group said veterans have shown an interest in solving their own problems "through cooperative homes projects"

Looks Costly Costs Little!

• Look at a Thick Butt roof and you'd guess it cost a lot more than the owner actually paid. That distinctive wood-grain texture, the handsome colors, the substantial double thickness, the extra weather protection, the fire-safety . . . these are the qualities of an expensive roof. So you'll be pleasantly surprised to learn how little Textured Thick Butts cost to beautify and protect your home. See our samples.
